JUAREZ TAKEN BY REBELS AFTER LONG BLOODY FIGHT

General Madero Sets Up New Provisional Capital—Insurrectos Now Assured of Complete Triumph—Bitter Defeat for Navarro.

Ciudad, Juarez, Meico, May 10.—This little bullet-riddled city tonight is the provisional capital of Mexico and Francisco I Madero, Jr., provisional president and his staff have taken possession after winning the bloodiest battle of the Mexican revolution.

In a corner room of the barracks in which for two days he held out against the fire of the rebels, sits General Juan J. Navarro, the Federal commander, a captive, having surrendered today with almost his entire garrison of several hundred men. His face is sunken, his head is bowed, and he does not talk, for the bitterating of defeat has disheartened him.

In contrast, in another part of the town, is Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the conqueror, surrounded by members of his family and his staff, joyous, exultant and flushed with victory; yet ready, he says, to make peace with the Mexican government if it is disposed to deal frankly and sincerely with the revolutionists and without such vague promises as "President Diaz' manifesto contains."

Diaz Hotel a Hospital.

The hotel lobbies, store fronts and hallways, the improvised hospitals of the battlefield are scores of wounded, attended by a host of physicians and nurses fro El Paso, who have volunteered aid. The floors of the Porfirio Diaz Hotel where thirty wounded lay tonight, are covered with blood and gore-soaked clothing.

"The fortunes of war," mumbled an insurrecto soldier in Spanish tonight as he stood with tears in his eyes over the body of a Federal soldier whom he had known for years.

All the dead are being buried tonight. A conservative estimate places the Federal dead at nearly fifty and the rebel loss at about fifteen, with a total of nearly 250 wounded on both sides. The actual number lost probably never will be known, as deserters were many and the dead have been buried quickly.

The Associated Press correspondent counted seven dead Federals in the barracks late this afternoon. Among the dead were Colonel Tamborel and Captain Sachudo, the former the man who a few days ago taunted the rebels as cowards.

On the American side of the line five have been killed and about seventeen wounded, many of them being innocently engaged at a distance from the river front.

Actual Surrender of Town.

The actual surrender of the town by General Navarro took place about 1 o'clock, General Navarro giving his sword to Colonel Garibaldi, of the insurrecto army, after the rebels had completely surrounded the barracks and threatened to annihilitate the garrison within.

His eyes dimmed as he surrendered, but Colonel Garibaldi, with a handshake that bespoke his admiration of the brave fight the Federal leader had made, assured him of the desire of the rebels to afford him every courtesy. A score or rebel officers road up and extended to the Federal commander their sympathy as Mexicans for him and his men.

There is the same fraternal sentiment tonight in the hearts of the entire insurrecto army for their countrymen, who have been defeated, but everywhere are heard words of opprobrium for President Diaz whom they hold responsible for the loss of life and the suffering of the wounded.

Madero Lauds Federals.

General Madero, when he arrived this afternoon at the Corral, where the Federal prisoners were quartered, made an address full of sympathy and encouragement, lauding them for their bravery and assuring them that in his heart, as well as in those of his men, there was no feeling of enmity but of uniform friendliness.

"You fought for General Diaz," he said, "because you had to, because you were a part of that system which we are trying to dissolve. In a few days perhaps peace will be restored. You soon will be free. If the war is to be continued, you can have your choice of being paroled or joining the army of liberation. In the meantime, we shall treat you as brothers, not as foes."

With shouts of "Viva Madero," the vast throng of prisoners and insurrectos who listened to him threw their hats skyward and shouted in deafening applause.

Insurrecto Colors Flash.

A few moments later down the main thoroughfare was heard the galloping of horses and soon the insurrecto standard, the Mexican National colors flashed in the sunlight. Behind it rode Mrs. Francisco I Madero, Jr., and an escort of cavalry. Her face was beaming with joy, her black dress covered with dust and she spurred her horse to the scene of her husband's triumph. The shouting increased as the two embraced and entered the municipal building, now the Madero headquarters.

Orders were issued by General Pasqual Orozco to his men to guard the stores and houses to prevent looting. General Orozco himself shot at two of his men whom he caught trying to make way with some booty.

The town the Federals thought impregnable to attack fell after a comparativey easy effort. The house to house advance, the same deadly fire, which had driven the Federals from their trenches and outposts early Monday when the skirmishing began, gave the rebels an entrance to the town hardly molested by the artillery of the Federals.

At the close of yesterday's fighting the rebels had extensive control of the town. During the night they discovered the Federal strongholds and by the use of dynamite bombs and shells, a raging conflagration and fierce musketry fought their way to the famous old Spanish church, whose high brick fence formed a barricade for the Federals. The insurrectos took the church at midnight. The Federals retired further into the city to the roof of the municipal building, edges of which were piled with sandbags for a barricade.

After the attack was renewed early today and the rebels had brought their machine guns within deadly range, the Federals retired to the barracks and insurrectos by the hundred occupied the houses within one hundred yards on every side. Their fire was rapidly demolishing the building. There was no other alternative for General Navarro but to yield.

Navarro's White Flag.

Shrapnel was being poured into the hollow square of the barracks. Many Federal cavalry horses were killed. The soldiers crowded the places to its capacity. Only a few loopholes from which the shoot at the insurrectos pierced its sides. Finally at noon General Navarro hoisted a white flag. He first attempted to send a messenger to Senor Obregon, one of the go-betweens in the recent peace negotiations, asking him to arrange for a cessation of hostilities or for an armistice, but the rebels would except immediate surrender.

The gray-haired general stood in the doorway of the barracks and received Colonel Garibaldi.

Raoul Madero, brother of the rebel leader, dashed forward with his gun pointed at Navarro ready to shoot if Garibaldi were hit. Federals and insurrectos alike, however, withheld their fire while the surrender was being arranged.

The fighting so ceased and attention immediately was directed to the dead and wounded. The Federals in their humiliation tore off their caps an uniforms and under guard of the rebels walked dejectedly in their underclothing down the street to the corral. They numbered about five hundred. Tonight it was reported that 150 of them had taken the oath of allegiance to General Madero and would join his forces.

Joy Over the Surrender.

Church bells were rung, residents of the town appeared in the streets with sighs of relief, and the insurrectos began a continuous uproar of shouts. The insurrectos began to collect thousands of rounds of ammunition from the Federal barracks, and they easily have made the most valuable capture of the revolution. They now have two mortars, three machine guns and two field pieces. Their ammunition belts, somewhat depleted during the attack, are filled again.

The town of Juarez has been shattered by bullets and shells beyond recognition. Several houses have been burned to the ground. Numerous adobe dwellings are rooness. Some have large holes in their walls exposing to view wrecked interiors.

Window glass, bedding and debris litter the streets. Scores of buildings are punctured with bullet holes. Many show the destructive effect of the artillery fire. The flags of all nations were flying from the dwellings of foreign residents today.

Down the streets after the surrender sauntered the insurrecto soldiers in search of food and water. Their faces were unshaven and their hair unkempt and their eyes worn by the loss of sleep in these days of fighting, yet they went about joyfully shouting "Viva Madero" as they passed one another.

American doctors bandaged their torn thumbs, grazed arms and slight wounds, and they gathered in the streets to celebrate their victory.

Telephone wires were soon being repaired and shattered telegraph poles replaced. The insurrectos now are trying to make their new capital a habitable place.

Prisoners Set Free.

Happiest among those who were about the streets were the prisoners liberated from the jail during the day. Many of them claim to have

LUTHERAN SYNOD BEGINS MEETINGS

RECEPTION DURING EVENING

President's Annual Address and Introductory Sermon — Proceedings During the Day—Resolution of Sympathy.

(By Miss Mamie Bays.)

The Synod of North Carolina, of the Evangelical Lutheran church, held three interesting and profitable sessions yesterday. The enrollment of delegates showed that most of the ministers and laymen who constitute the Synod were present for the opening session. The constitution provides that the members of the Synod shall consist of all Lutheran ministers, whether pastors or not, in the bounds of the Synod and one lay delegate from each pastorate. This provision renders the number of ministers and laymen almost equal.

One of the most impressive features of the sessions of yesterday was the adoption of a resolution of appreciation and sympathy to Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D. D., of Charlotte, the oldest member of this body. Dr. Bernheim is now eighty-six years old, and has been a minister for fifty-two years. He had hoped to be present at this meeting of the Synod and that he is physically unable to do so is a source of disappointment to the entire body. He is honored and loved as the father of the Synod.

The Synod was opened with a service of Confession and Absolution, which Rev. J. E. Shenk conducted. Rev. V. Y. Boozer, President, then preached the Synodical sermon, and following the sermon the communion service was conducted by Rev. W. A. Snyder, Rev. V. Y. Boozer and Rev. J. E. Shenk. The theme of Mr. Boozer's sermon was the need of unity in the church in doctrine, sacraments and worship. He spoke first of the need for more preaching of the great fundamental doctrines of the Bible, and said it is deplorable how few of the so-called great preachers of today are preaching a pure gospel. The function of the pulpit, he said, is to instruct and edify and not to entertain, and that the reason many preachers ignore the preaching of such doctrines as the Atonement, Regeneration, future punishment, is because these preachers are so much occupied with fitting their preaching to the spirit of the age, these doctrines do not appeal to them, and the result is ignorance on the part of the people.

Preachers who discuss sanitation and politics in sermons instead of fundamental doctrines commit a crime for which they must answer. Speaking of the sacraments Mr. Boozer said they are inseparably connected with the word of God, and the church needs constantly to be reminded of her dependance upon the sacraments and the Word as means of grace. He showed the sacraments of the Lord's Supper to mean more than a memorial feast. Prayer, praise and thanksgiving, Mr. Boozer showed to be worshiping the sacrificial part of Christian life, just as the sacraments are the sacramental part.

He deplored the lack of steadfastness in worship, due to commercialism, socialism, social pleasures and Sabbath desecration, and in this connection said that as soon as Christians begin to neglect church worship they begin to deteriorate spiritually, because going to church means more than simply hearing a sermon. He emphasized the fact, in closing his sermon, that no progress can be attained in the Christian life without adherence to unity and doctrine in sacraments and in worship.

Afternoon Session.

Te Synod met at 3 o'clock for the afternoon session. The first business considered was the annual report of the President to the Synod. Mr. Boozer read his report in the course of which he reviewed the different interests of the church in the Synod. He expressed in the closing paragraph of his address his appreciation of the honor and confidence of the Synod in electing him president for the past three years, and then stated that he could not fill this position longer. The address showed that the work of the church throughout the Synod has made very gratifying progress during the year just closed. There are fewer vacancies in the pastorate of the Synod than was the case one year ago, and much has been accomplished that shows encouragement and advancement of the various interests of the church throughout the Synod.

Mr. Boozer announced that the next business of the Synod was the election of officers for the coming year, this election to be decided by ballot. The constitution of the Synod provides that all officers of this body except the treasurer shall be ministers, that all officers, president, vice president, secretary, statistical secretary and treasurer, shall be elected at the

DENOUNCED THE INFORMER.

Wrath of Prisoner Brings Halt to Camorrist Trial.

Viterbo, Italy, May 10.—The afternoon sitting of the trial of the Camorrists was brought to a sudden close by a scene in which Enrico Alfano (Erricone) was the principal actor. He had gradually worked himself into a state of frenzy during the confrontation of Abbatemaggio by Givanni Rapi, the alleged treasurer of the organization. Alfano's wrath burst forth, when the informer began to ridicule Rapi's explanations of his whereabouts at different times. He suddenly leaped to his feet and pointing to Abbatamaggio shrieked: "He is driving me mad! Take me to a lunatic asylum! Send me to hard labor, although I am innocent, but relieve me of the presence of that hound. I cannot stand him a moment longer."

Erricone was ghastly and trembling. He was surrounded by the prisoners in the cage, and fearing that he might collapse the president adjourned the court.

FATAL AERO ACCIDENT.

Lieut. Geo. M. Kelly Killed Yesterday at San Antonio, Texas.

San Antonio, Texas, May 10.—A bolt hole an eighth of an inch in diameter, bored where it should not have been, in the prong of the seat fork of the army Curtiss aeroplane, caused the death of Lieutenant George M. Kelly, 30th infantry, at 7:30 o'clock this morning, upon the aviation field, at the maneuvers camp. Such is the verdict of a board of officers of the Aero Company, which investigated the accident.

The board finds the accident was unavoidable, due probably to structural weakness of the aeroplane.

Lieutenant Kelly had made a perfect flight and was landing when the shock of the contact with the ground broke the "finger" at the misplaced bolt hole and twisted the machine. One of the supporting wires caught on the engine and threw it wide open at a speed of 75 miles an hour. The aeroplane shot forward and headed directly for the tents of the 11th infantry. Lieutenant Kelly saw the danger to the occupants of the tents, and osught to turn the machine. One of the planes struck an embankment and toppled the aeroplane over.

Lieutenant Kelly was thrown 20 feet from the wreck and was landed on his head. His neck was broken and his skull fractured.

The accident was witnessed by General Carter and his staff.

The train was said to be running at a high rate of speed when the caboose left the track. Those killed met their death by being pinned under the car.

All the dead and one injured man were taken to Fremont. The other men injured were taken to Sandusky.

It is said three of the injured will die from their hurts. Coroner Schwartz, of Sandusky county, has begun an investigation of the wreck.

DECISION CAUSED STRIKE AT TAMPA

Walk-Out of Three Thousand Cigar-Makers Follows Court's Action.

JUDGE WALL WARNS LEADERS

Resulted from Sending Former Striked Leaders to Prison for a Year —No Serious Disturbance Yesterday.

Tampa, Fla., May 10.—Singing the Marseillaise, three thousand cigarmakers marched through the streets of West Tampa and Ybor City this afternoon in a demonstration against the decision of Judge Wall, of the Circuit Court, upholding the sentencing to one year imprisonment of the leaders in the recent strike here, rendered by the criminal court of record.

Following the parade a general strike was declared. Further than the gathering of crowds of excited workers on the street corners there was no serious disturbance.

Tonight Judge Wall issued a mandate to the sheriff to notify the leaders in the movement that unless the demonstration came to an end before morning the strike leaders under sentence, Jose DeLaCampa, Britt Russell and J. F. Bartum will be remanded to jail and sent to the chain gang at once to begin serving their terms.

When rumors were received in the business section of Tampa that the cigar makers had struck and were rioting, police were hurried to the labor temple in Ybor City to preserve order. When the factories closed the crowd was augmented by thousands, who did not walk out and tonight the streets of Ybor City and West Tampa are filled with gesticulating latins, discussing the situtuon.

In the manifesto issued this afternoon the joint advisory board stated that the strike will continue until the men under sentence are either pardoned or a new trial is granted. About 25 per cent. of the cigar makers here joined the strike. A meeting of the General Trades and Labor Assembly is in session tonight discussing the advisability of a sympathetic strike of all of the trade bodies of the city.

WAS RESCUED FROM DEATH.

Bravery of Constable Saves Woman From Horrible End.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 10.—Bucking with grim determination to end her life, Mrs. Elizabeth Hartley, of Buffalo, 50 years old, was rescued from death at the very brink of the cataract today by Constable Thomas Harrington, who faced constant danger of being carried over the falls with the struggling woman.

Mrs. Hartley, who came here today, entered the water about 60 feet above the falls. Her dress caught on a jagged rock fifteen feet from the brink of the falls. There she was held until Harrington reached the bank with a pike pole and hooked it into her dress.

Her arms pinioned by the terrific current, Mrs. Hartley tried to get free from the pole, but finally, weakened by her struggles, she became quiet and was dragged ashore.

At the hospital where she was taken it is said she cannot live.

On the river bank was found a letter and a bunch of flowers. The letter read: "No longer to be treated as a thing demented."

Word received later from Buffalo said that Mrs. Hartley was an inmate of the State hospital there. She had been on parole for several weeks and left the institution today to take a position in a private family. She had shown no signs of her mental trouble for three months.

SAW PHENOMENON AT SEA.

Capt. Hall Reports Seeing Rainbow at Night Off Cape Hatteras.

Baltimore, Md., May 10.—Capt. Hall, of the Baltimore and Carolina steamer Theodore Weems, came into port yesterday from Georgetown, S. C., somewhat mystified by a phenomenon seen at sea. It was a beautiful rainbow at midnight last Sunday.

"I left Georgetown," said Captain Hall, "last Friday evening with a moderate easterly wind, but as soon as I cleared the harbor it grew in intensity until it blew with hurricane force from the northeast. We fought the storm and, with full speed ahead, the ship made from but three to four knots an hour all the way to Hatteras. Sunday evening the weather moderated and a short time before midnight the clouds broke away and the moon came ut. To the astonishment of all on board a beautiful rainbow described as a circle from east to east-northeast. All hands saw it and not one on board, although many had long followed the sea, had ever seen such a sight at night as wes presented to us for fully 10 minutes. It had all the colors of the usual rainbow and to me it seemed more brilliant."

MADERO'S VICTORY CAME AS SURPRISE

Washington Officials Believed Federals More Than Match For Rebels.

MEANS AID FOR INSURGENTS

Fall of Juarez Learned From Several Sources—Effect on the Country —Question of Recognition Arises as a Result.

Washington, May 10.—News of the fall of Juarez came to official Washington from various sources. From the secret service agents of the Department of Justice, who have been watching the border; from the collector of customs at El Paso and from the signal service men of the army. The authorities here believed that General Navarro's soldiers were more than a match for a considerably larger number of untrained and ill-organized rebels. To their mind, it was evident that there had been a lack of information as to the real numerical strength of the Madero force.

The news of Madero's victory will spread rapidly throughout Mexico, and without doubt recruits will swarm into his camp. Logically, with heavy reinforcements, his next move would be to march on the capital itself, incidentally stopping on the way to besiege and capture all of the considerable cities and towns in his path.

There will be one formidable obstacle to such a campaign, the difficulty of arming and supplying with ammunition his augmented forces. He can scarcely obtain these supplies from Texas, for the administration holds to its decision that arms cannot be permitted to go to the rebels across the line before recognition of the belligerency of the Maderoists. And arms and munitions of war cannot otherwise be gotten to Madero's army until he captures some sea port and establishes safe lines of communication with it. So the question of recognition of his belligerency assumes the first degree of importance to Madero, and without doubt through Senor Vasconcelos, the acting head of the junta here, an effort may be expected to secure such recognition from the State Department.

Indications are that such a request will not be granted, for the present, at least. There is this serious objection to doing so, by that act the Diaz government would be relieved of all pecuniary responsibility for any damage inflicted upon Americans by the rebel operations. The large American business interests in Mexico which have suffered severely by the insurrection would raise a strong protest against the adoption of a course that would prevent them from securing reimbursement for their losses.

Another consideration is that it would oblige our government to treat the Diaz government precisely as it does the rebels in the matter of denying them the right to import arms and munitions of war, and would subject American goods entering Mexico to seizure as contraband, at the whim of the rebels, without any recourse.

Just to what extent Madero has benefitted by the capture of Juarez in changing his status in the eye of international law the officials here are not disposed, at present, to declare. But, offhand, it is said that the United States will be obliged to recognize his de facto control of Juarez an international port of entry. In the end, he will be able to receive merchandise through his custom house and collect tariff taxes.

Mails to Mexico City are interrupted. Postmaster General Hitchcock announced today that communication via Laredo is open and mails are moving in the usual manner.

That of Wealthy Italian at Pittsburg. Three Arrests.

Pittsburg, May 10.—The home of Antonio Sisca, a wealthy Italian of Sharpsburg, was wrecked by dynamite this morning and while the entire family was blown from the building no one was seriously hurt. A black hand letter was received by Sisca several days ago, which demanded $10,000 under penalty of blowing his house up. Sisca ignored the letter. Another was received tonight demanding $20,000, which was to be brought to Pittsburg and paid to a man who would demand it.

Failing to comply, Sisca was to be shot. The letter was turned over to the police, who tonight arrested Tony Fafette, at Sharpsburg, as he returned from Pittsburg.

Ralph Angelon and Sam Salvatore, alleged to have been seen about the wrecked house before the explosion, also were arrested. Their house was searched and a quantity of dynamite, fuse and caps were said to have been found. The three men are locked up pending an investigation.

WILL OPPOSE RECIPROCITY.

Farmers' National Congress Against the Agreement.

Chicago, May 10. — Legislative Agent John M. Stahl, of the Farmers' National Congress, announced today that the alliance which is represented in its membership in nearly all the important farming States, would oppose reciprocity with Canada. This decision, he said, had been reached after a thorough investigation of all the economic and industrial conditions involved. Mr. Stahl said:

"The proposed agreement with Canada is unfair and inequitable. It will hurt our farmers seriously; and what injures the farmers will lead to injury to others. The welfare of many, besides farmers demands that the proposed arrangement with Canada be killed and speedily."

The Farmers' National Congress is composed of about 6,000 delegates appointed by the governors of the various States, on the recommendations of the agricultural organizations of the States.

FEDERAL CORPORATION TAX.

Checks Should be Received by Collector Before July 1st.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 10.—The Federal tax on corporations has to be paid by July 1st, by corporations in this State, else they are penalized 5 per cent. The payments for the central and eastern sections of this State have to be made through Collectod Wheeler Martin here at Raleigh. There is an important question pending now as to payments of this tax through checks and the liability of the collector in endorsing checks so received. Last year there were a number of corporations that sent checks late in June that were in procss of final collection July 1st and the Department at Washligton insisted on penalizing the corporations whose checks were outstanding. An act of the last Congress empowered the collector to receive checks, but still there is pending a question of the liability of the government for any endorsements that it may be necessary for the collector to make on checks for their proper handling in the banks. It looks like about the only safe thing for corporations to do this year will be to send in their payments of taxes in the most ample time for the handling of their checks to be completed before July 1st, if they are sure of avoiding a penalization.

Allen; First Lieutenant Commander, S. W. Walker; second lieutenant commander, Q. I. Hudson; treasurer, R. H. Bradley; adjutant, J. S. Birdsong. After the business meeting the old soldiers formed in line at the municipal building and marched double file to Capitol Square where the Ladies' Memorial Association served dnner to them on the green. The procession was headed by the famous Confederate Drum Corps that stirred enthusiasm with the strains of Dixie on fife and drum.

—Mr. Samuel King, an old Wilmington boy, for the past several years with the Armour Car Lines, was in the city yesterday on his way from Chadbourn, N. C., where he has been during the rush of the strawberry season, to Salisbury, Md., where he will assist with the fruit transportation in that terriory.

El Paso, Texas, May 10.—Dr. Vasquez Gomez, confidential agent of the Mexican revolutionists in this country, tonight telegraphed his assistant in Washington, Senor Jose VasConcelos, to make immediate representations to the War Department for the removal of restrictions placed by the American troops on the passage of food and supplies to Juarez.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Mamie Garrison, a white woman, yesterday begun in Superior Court a suit for divorce against her husband, Miles Garrison. The complaint has not yet been filed.

—Patrolman Leon George made two arrests yesterday for violations of the driving ordinance. Livingston Sykes, white, was arrested at 9:15 A. M. on Second, between Market and Dock streets, and Harlice Bellamy, colored, was arrested at 5:20 P. M., on Front, between Market and Princess streets. They will be tried this morning.

—It was stated yesterday that Councilman W. E. Perdew as well as Councilman B. C. Moore voted against the payment of the bill of Capt. Louis Belden for three days' service, and as this is the case the bill was not allowed as the Mayor did not break the tie at the meeting Tuesday. The matter will probably be considered again later.

THREE DEAD FROM POISON.

Drank Beer Containing Cyanide of Potassium—Two Ill.

Philadelphia, May 10.—Three persons are dead and two others are in a hospital as the result of drinking beer today in which cyanide of potassium had been placed. The dead are Ida Arbuckle, aged 51 years; John Shinn, aged 53 years, and Earl Burr, aged 50 years.

Those in the hospital are Emily Shinn, aged 55 years, wife of John Shinn, and Michael McGinley, aged 42 years.

All except Burr lived in a tenement house at 2333 Ralston street where the tragedy occurred. Shinn and Burr are believed to have entered into a suicide pact, which resulted in the three deaths.

Burr, who was a photographer, is said to have made several fortunes, but was in the habit of going on long debauches. In Burr's cont was found a box of cyanide of potassium.

When Mrs. Shinn regained consciousness at the hospital she told the police that she did not know how the poison had gotten into the beer. Her husband she said, had been out of work all Winter and she had been obliged to support him by working in a mill. She had threatened to leave him several times and he had told her that "we will all go together."

Ida Arbuckle, the dead woman, is said to have had wealthy relatives in California. At one time she had evidently been a bautiful woman, but had become dissipated.

BODIES FOUND IN RUINS.

LaFayette Died Within Few Days of Pet Dog.

London, May 10.—The London newspapers this morning are full of stories of LaFayette eccentricities. His body, together with two other members of his company were today recovered from the ruins of the Empire theatre. The most curious incident is the fact that his favorite dog "Beauty," died on May 4th from apoplexy, at which LaFayette's friends say he was utterly grief-stricken. He wrote letters to friends, announcing the death in terms usually applied to the loss of a dear relative. He had "Beauty" embalmed, and the body was lying in state surrounded by lilies at a hotel in Edenburgh when the fire in the theatre occurred. LaFayette paid $300 for a grave for "Beauty" in Piers Hill cemetery, Edinburgh, and ordered a marble tomb to cost $1,500. It was to be inscribed: "In loving memory of my dearest Beauty."

When the authorities protested that the dog could not be buried on consecrated ground LaFayette replied: "The vault is for my ashes. The dog will be buried with me."

According to his London manager, LaFayette always said: "If my dog dies I shall die too, within a few days."

Beauty's remains were placed in a neat oak coffin and given the elaborate funeral which her master had ordered by the remaining members of his company.

AFTRER CONFEDERATE FLAG

New York Adjutant General Urges Assembly to Act.

Albany, N. Y., May 10.—Adjutant General Verbeck has written to Assemblyman Cuyllion, chairman of the Assembly Military Committee advocating the passage of the bill providing for the return to Virginia of the Confederate battle flag of the seventeenth Virginia cavalry. Te adjutant general says he believes "this one act will make more for universal peace than all the noise made by peace conventions or by the ten million dollar gift of Carnegie himself."

Berlin, May 10.—A duel between officers which ended fatally, occurred at dawn today in a forest near Berlin. Baron Oswald von Richthofen, son of the late secretary of foreign affairs, and a reserve officer in one of the guards regiments, killed Wilhelm von Gaffron, a retired officer. A quarrel over money matters led to the duel.

HOW OLD IS YOUR COMPLEXION?

(From London Graphic.)

"I have just returned from Paris, where I have been hunting up all the new fashions, and I have many valuable ideas.

"I obtained an interview with Madame De Veaux, Paris' most renowned beauty. Although a woman of fifty years, she could easily pass for thirty. The skin on her face, neck and arms is clear, soft and velvety, and entirely free from wrinkles and stray hairs.

"She has never used powder or paint, but makes a solution by dissolving an original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witchhazel, and massages her face, arms and neck twice a day with it. This does not show upon the skin; removes all sorts of blemishes, and prevents the growth of hair.

"The use of powder will not be found necessary at all, as the solution removes any shine from the skin at once, and gives the face a dainty, natural color. The stray hairs will disappear if the treatment is continued. CLARIBEL MONTAGUE."

been innocent of any wrong doing.

James Monaghan, of Philadelphia, a student in Swarthmore College, who went sight-seeing in Juarez on Sunday, says he was arrested as a spy and since has been in prison, being forced frequently during the fighting to carry water from across the street to the Federal soldiers, who fought from the top of the jail.

General Madero walked about the streets congratulating his men. Their horses had not yet been brought from the old camp late today. Tonight he dictated the following statement:

"The taking of Juarez is of great military and political importance to the revolutionists, and it assures us a complete triumph in a short time The forces which defended the town fought valiently.

"They owe their defeat to the fact that our forces were inspired by the spirit to win political liberty, while the Federals were only held in their ranks by the yoke of discipline.

"The majority are in the army against their will. For this reason I wish to announce to all soldiers that I will set them free as soon as I can find a way to insure some means of support for those who do not wish to incorporate themselves in my forces.

"At present I cannot set them free, as they have no means of subsistence, which would be dangerous. As far as I can now observe the majority of the prisoners will swell my forces. Some of the officers, I am sure, will enter my army, and those who wish to remain true to the government of Porfirio Diaz will be exchanged for prisoners of war or political prisoners.

(Signed

"FRANCISCO I. MADERO, JR.,

"Provisional President of Mexico."

Much more ammunition than they ever dreamed to be in Juarez tonight is in the hand of the revolutionists. The sympathy of the people in the State of Chihuahua is with the rebels and if they march southward toward Mexico City it is most certain they will recruit thousands of men.

Still Awaiting Peace.

The probable course of action of the insurrectos now will be to determine whether the government is ready to make definite peace concessions. Negotiations for peace probably will be resumed in a day or two, but the rebel demands probably will be much stronger than before. Erstwhile peace commissioners and rebel political chiefs were in Juarez tonight conferring with Madero.

General Navarro Paroled.

General Navarro and his twenty-seven officers were paroled tonight by General Madero. After inviting them to dinner, he announced that if they would promise on their honor not to leave the city they could have the liberty of the town. Tney agreed to do so and are sleeping at their headquarters tonight.

Word From Mexico City.

Mexico City, May 10.—There is no one in the capital tonight not under official ban of silence, who does not admit that the capture of Juarez by the revolutionists adds immense prestige to the flag of the revolt and that morally it is bonnd greatly to augment the strength of the insurrecto cause.

Gen. Navarro was not accounted brilliant, but was given credit for bravery and determination. He was quoted in this city as having assured the President that he would die rather than surrender. It was generally believed he would hold his position in the adobe village on the south bank of the Rio Grande. News that he had surrendered, therefore, came as a surprise; but, it is generally admitted, not as a disappointment to 90 per cent. of the people.

Among higher government officials news dispatches which invariably have been many hours ahead of official advices from the Mexican consult at El Paso, and which have been much more accurate, were accepted with reluctance as truthful.

The general situation in its increased gravity furnished a solemn subject for tonight's cabinet meeting and one for the liveliest debate in the cafes and saloons. With Juarez in the hands of Gen. Madero the task of Gen. Rabago, sent north from Chihuahua with 800 men to the relief of Navarro, becomes more difficult. According to popular and official opinions the issue at Juarez remains to be fought out, probably with bullets, possibly with the re-opening of peace negotiations.

In the general discussion tonight there was a disposition to dismiss the border situation from consideration for a moment and to consider today's triumph with reference to the unrest in other parts of the country. The conquering of the government's leading general, it is generally conceded, cannot but stir the martial ardor and the ambition of those bands whose operations thus far have been purely local to their own neighborhoods.

STABS AT RECIPROCITY.

Feature Hearing Before Senate Finance Committee.

Washington, May 10.—Vicious assaults on the Canadian reciprocity bill marked today's hearing on that measure by the Senate Finance Committee. Farmers from the border States, fishermen from Gloucester, Mass.; manufacturers of wire cloth for paper making, and manufacturers of books, wrapping and news print paper, all poured forth their protests against the bill. Probably the greatest outburst against the bill occurred when former Governor John Strange, of Wisconsin, introduced as representing wrapping paper manufacturers and the boards of trade of Neenah and Menasha, Ws., addressed the committee. He swerved from criticism of the bill to attack "the American Publishers' Association and its related organization, the Associated Press," until finally Senator Penrose asked him to limit his remarks to his specific objection to the bill. Mr. Strange characterized the bill as a cowardly machine and as lacking love of country, and brought forth at the demand "of the greatest trust in the world." He said that Congress would not be in session today considering the bill "if it had not been for this combination in restraint of trade."

FIGHT AGAINST TURKEY.

Army of 10,000 Men Mobilized to Aid the Albanians.

London, May 10.—A staff correspondent of the Daily Chronicle writes from Rome giving an interview with General Ricciotti Garibaldi, who asserts that he has enrolled a legion of 10,000 men, including Italians, Englishmen, Americans and Frenchmen, to fight in behalf of the Albanians in the struggle against Turkey.

The correspondent says that the Italian government is alarmed and is adopting vigorous measures, searching for concealed arms and watching the ports to prevent the embarkation of Garibaldian adherents.

People who take the law in their own hands make a mess of it.

The sum of $50,000 is to be spent in advertising Arkansas. North Carolina has the goods, but people abroad won't find it out unless the State advertises.

Concord gets there again. Not content with being the only place with a trolleyless street car it goes and gets a postal savings bank. It stays in the calcium light.—Raleigh News and Observer.

It has been discovred that North Carolina is the "Promised Land." It is now admitted to be the most promising land in the Western Hemisphere. You can't keep people from making discoveries.

The New York Times suggests a law to regulate the "air peril" by prohibiting incompetents from navigating the air. No law is needed to keep us from getting giddy.

President Diaz, of Mexico, is "old and only in the way" of the ambitions of other men. A man ought to know when he gets old enough to stand aside instead of waiting to be kicked out of the way.

The New York Chamber of Commerce which invested "colds," influenza or grippe, again reminds us that every cold in the head costs $44.34. That's exactly $44.34 cents more than the blamed thing is worth.

A foreign correspondent writes to an American paper that quite a number of kings and queens in Europe are almost penniless. So far as that is concerned, nearly any American prince of good fellows is on his uppers.

The house fly and the mosquito are outlawed. Kill all you get a chance at. Don't let them dodge you. A small quantity of sulphuric acid or sulphur burned in a saucer in a closed room will kill every fly and mosquito in a room.

"Th people ought to nominate the next President," declares a contemporary. Nevertheless, if you want to be President stand in with the politicians. They pick the nominees which they think will secure the greater popular approval.'

The civic leagues all over the country tell us we must get rid of unsightly posts. Even the wife-beaters and petty thieves in Delaware are down on the post. The whipping post never did look good to them and naturally they want it abolished.

Scientists have said that mosquitoes do not fly far from where they are bred, but biologists have discovered that New Jersey mosquitoes bred in salt marshes fly inward 40 miles. This calls for drainage all over the country and state-wide war on mosquitoes.

A writer urges that we must look on ourselves as the partners and not the victims of the great corporations. Of course, we are willing to be a partner in the Standard Oil Company and the United Steel Corporation, but we fear we'd be considered a silent partner on dividend day.

Says the Chattanooga Times."Ex-Congressman Massey, who served out the late Walter P. Brownlow's term in Congress, retires to the management of the Johnson City Soldiers' home, his influence as congressman having been exactly large enough to secure for him that job." Probably that's all Massey was fighting for. All some men care to fight for is a living chance.

DEMOCRATS AND THE TARIFF.

Reciprocity is now up to a stand-pat Republican Senate, and a Democratic House is tackling the tariff, in a way. The Democrats consider that the people voted for reduction of the tariff, and they supported President Taft's reciprocity policy under the conviction that freer trade relations will reduce the burdens of the tariff. Now they are considering reduction of some of the unreasonable schedules of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Just as might have been expected, the Democrats are divided on the tariff. The theorist is in Congress with his ill-digested ideas, the demagogue is there taking advantage of every opening, and the statesman is there ready to consider the tariff question and work out a solution in behalf of all the people and all the sections and all the interests affected by the tariff. All are equally concerned in sane tariff legislation and the country at large has to be considered. However, between the conservatives, the extremists and the demagogues, the Democratic majority is up against a real problem. In handling it, Democratic capacity is on trial.

Quite a number of Democrats in Congress seem to be possessed of the "free list" idea, while others haven't forgotten that the Democratic party is a tariff party—a party favoring a tariff for raising sufficient revenue for the needs of this government. While much has been said about the Democratic party's standing for "a tariff for revenue only," there isn't any such tariff, for the Tilden platform recognizes that a tariff for revenue with incidental protection is the real Democratic idea of tariff making. Any tariff levied for revenue, as a matter of course, incidentally protects American industries in the same proportion that it makes revenue for the government. For instance, if the tariff on wool were to be cut to a duty of 10 per cent. for the purpose of getting revenue, the wool industry would incidentally get protection to the extent of ten per cent., or whatever rate the government makes the duty for revenue. So we see there is no such thing, strictly speaking, as "a tariff for revenue only," because any kind of tariff will both result in revenue and incidental protection.

With its majority in Congress, the Democratic party is now right up against the tariff question—not on the stump but in Congress. Its cross roads consideration has given way to deliberation upon it in the National tariff making body. The science of tariff making has to figure in what is to be done, but the people are looking to a Democratic House to afford them relief by reducing the tariff. Congress, however, will be pretty apt to disappoint a great many, but it must be remembered that the reduction has to take place gradually so as to raise the revenue and at the same time cripple no American industry. Putting the knife in deep and carrying out a radical programme might play smash with the revenue and the Democratic party at one and the same time. Therefore, the Democratic majority in Congress has to demonstrate its statesmanship in handling this important question. The question is what it will do, and how successful it will be in making a tariff that will win the confidence of enough people to assure Democratic success in 1912, when we are to elect a President and another Congress.

The "free list" Democrats seem at present to be giving a great deal of trouble. In demanding free wool, they overlook the question of revenue on wool, and certainly the woolen manufacturers would prefer to get their wool supply free of duty. However, what advantage to the wearers of clothing would free wool be, if the tariff on manufactured woolens is not reduced? Free wool would benefit the manufacturers but consumers would have to take their chances. It would be something like Taft's Canadian reciprocity that admits cattle on the hoof free while keeping up the tariff on packing house products, a kind of reciprocity that would tickle a packer to death, for it would enable the packers to buy cattle at their own prices and at the same time fix the prices of packing house products to suit themselves.

As to wool, the Democratic House is now divided. The majority of the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee want to place wool on the free list. Speaker Champ Clark objects, and, as might be expected, Chairman Underwood lines up with the Speaker. At a caucus of the New York delegation, by a vote of 18 to 4, the New York Congressmen declared for free wool. Speaker Clark is from the State of Missouri, which grows wool, and he is also "from Missouri" on a proposition that will take all the protection off his wool growing constituents. Of course, he is criticised just as Senator Simmons is criticised for looking out after his timber and lumber constituents.

Clark wants some of the revenue raised on a tariff on wool and Simmons wants some of it raised on lumber. No doubt both will consent to tariff reduction, but the free list idea for Southern and Western products and merely reduction, or none at all, in New England's protection isn't going to take well. The fact is, Democratic statesmanship depends upon bringing about gradual reduction of the tariff and equable distribution of the reduction throughout the country, so no interests will suffer, and, above all, so the Democratic party won't be turned out to grass as incompetent. None of the sections will hanker after taking more of the free list treatment than other sections. A Democratic Congress will have to go slow and even up the thing or prepare to be dumped. We hope Democratic statesmanship will prevent this.

NEW ORLEANS LOST COMMERCE.

The Star has shown how Wilmington has gained in exports and imports by reason of harbor facilities in two or three particulars. Now we want to increase our port and harbor facilities in several other particulars in order to further increase the commerce of our port.

We learn most from either our own experience or that of others, and in this connection we wish to note that while Wilmington has gained commerce by improved harbor facilities the port of New Orleans has lost a large portion of its lumber business on account of lack of wharf facilities. When a port tolerates antiquated methods and does not keep up with progress, its commerce will either decline or stand still, instead of increasing as it normally should. However, as to the example of New Orleans, the Daily States of that city says, in an editorial referring to the lumber industry of the United States and particularly in the South:

"Although Louisiana is the first of the Southern States, and the second in the country, in lumber production, New Orleans has not reaped all the advantages that should have inured from that pre-eminence. We were not alert to our opportunities and we failed to provide the facilities necessary to the handling of lumber through this port, and, in consequence, much of it in the recent years of tremendous activity has found an outlet through other harbors. The Dock Board has, however, now practically completed a lumber wharf and when it has been properly connected with the Belt there ought to be an appreciable increase in our lumber exportations."

So we see that New Orleans is going to increase her dock facilities in order to get back her lumber trade. That trade must have been very considerable, for last year Louisiana led all the States of the country in the cut of yellow pine, her total having been 2,736,756,000 feet, valued at $34,127,347. Mississippi came second, with 2,114,706,000 feet, and Texas third, with 2,019,423,000. Louisiana led also in cypress and tupelo; Tennessee led the list in oak, yellow poplar and hickory; West Virginia in chestnut and hickory, and Arkansas in red gum, cottonwood and ash. Of the total cut of lumber of all kinds in the South the value was $348,432,812, of which yellow pine represented $200,943,399.

The South is now furnishing more than half the lumber output of the United States, as shown by a recent bulletin of the Census Bureau. In 1909 the output of the country was 44,509,961,000 feet, of which the fourteen Southern States cut 23,572,534,000 feet. The value of the South's cut was $348,432,812, which also represents a shade over half the value of all the country's output.

The Manufacturers' Record in an article referring to these census figures on timber production, shows that in 1880, the Southern States cut 18.8 per cent. of the country's total production of lumber, and that in ten years later it had grown to 39.1 per cent. In 1909 the South's percentage has grown to 52.9 per cent. This clearly indicates the tremendous timber resources of the South.

The census bulletin referred to shows that North Carolina stood fifth in the production of lumber, the value of her cut having been $27,971,809. She followed Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Virginia, in the order named. Virginia's cut was valued at $28,012,275. Analyzing these lumber figures the Manufacturers' Record finds that in 1909, the lumber mills of the United States handled 51 native woods and two imported. Of the total, the Southern mills handled 39 native woods and one imported.

In 1909 the South produced 52.9 per cent. of the total softwood of the country and 53 per cent. of the hardwood. Of yellow pine it cut 15,860,981,000 feet, or 97.4 per cent. of the total; of cypress, 918,338,000, or 96 per cent. of the total; of tupelo, 94.3 per cent.; of poplar, 88.8; of red gum, 80.8; of cottonwood, 64.8; of hickory, 64.6.

How much more of the North Carolina cut could Wilmington have handled if we had the harbor facilities and had paid more attention to lumber exports?

A TRUE PEOPLE'S TRIBUTE.

Fifty years ago the great American Civil War plunged the country into woe and dessolation. The four years of carnage illustrated the heroism and self-sacrifice of the American soldier who wore the Blue and the Grey, and to that heroism and sacrifice on the part of the Confederate heroes North Carolina yesterday paid tribute. It was Memorial Day which commemorates the sacrifice of the Confederate heroes of 1861-1865. Its observance is the sacred tribute of a true and brave people to those who typified the South's bravery and manhood by laying down their lives in the fiercest conflict of modern times. Without rancor, but in loving remembrance and devotion, we laid flowers upon the graves of the South's soldiers who immortalized their part of the Republic.

The last quarter of the June honeymoon will be a sign that it is time to come home and settle down.

CURRENT COMMENT.

New York messenger boy who returned to the owner a $50,000 check he had found was given one dollar. That's batting the honesty-is-the-best-policy truth over the eye.—Chattanooga Times.

Now it's done. Governor Harmon has, according to some of the papers, played smash. The Ohio Legislature passed a law permitting Sunday baeball; it was sent to him, but he refused to sign it or to take any action one way or the other, being afraid, so said, of the effect on the voters. He has, in other words, jumped from under."—Greensboro Record.

Our friend of the Charlotte Chronicle is a "little too previous," though it is not his fault. Communications from Greensboro regarding the recent election have no doubt made Col. Harris think the "recall" was going to be used. The truth is there has been a lot of talk about it, but it has been in a spirit of fun. But seriously, there is no petition being circulated for a recall, though there is considerable talk. What will result is not known. There is ever present a desire to raise shinny among a certain class of people and it may turn out that they will try the recall. It would afford a fine field for the professional "worker," so-called; the man who gets so much per day for legging for his candidates. Such jobs come only once every two years. Coming every two months, some of these "workers" could almost make a living.—Greensboro Record.

The spectacle of fifteen hundred to two thousand women marching on Fifth Avenue, New York City, Saturday afternoon, protesting against the New York Assembly refusing to pass a suffragette bill, was a shame upon the good women of this country. An effort was made to make the parade as large as possible for an effect on the Legislature, a fact which was announced with a great show of enthusiasm by Mrs. Harriett Blatch, high priestess in the cause. And be it said to man's disgrace, one hundred of the tribe were found following in the wake of the woman mob, for it can be counted little else. The Post has the greatest of respect for women — it believes they are the grandest of God's creation—but when it comes to the ballot and making an exhibition such as that in New York Saturday it draws the line upon them.—Salisbury Post.

As predicted, the New Yrk Sun has finally got around where it may be said to be flatly opposed to Woodrow Wilson. It has taken some time to maneuver into its present position, but it knew where it was going. For present purposes it suits The Sun to use indirection and it is seldom violent unless the figure of the booted and spurred Rough Rider appears in its vicinity. A red flag acts as a gentle soporific to a gentleman bovine compared with the effect of the presence of Trust Busting Teddy upon The Sun, and when we observe it attempting to link Roosevelt and Wilson as of a kind its purpose is revealed. Evidently Mr. Wilson is "dangerous." Bryan was 'dangercus." Rosevelt wasn't so bad till he ran amuck. Has The Sun picked its man? We imagine our New York contemporary would like to have pitted against each other one strong in Republican faith and one weak on Democratic principles. — Columbia State.

The murder of a mechanic's young bride in a Harlem flat and the attack on a woman in the Bronx by ruffians from ambush prompt new inquiries as to the efficiency of police protection. In the face of such crimes of violence the question whether vice conditions are better or worse is of negligible importance. If a woman's life and honor are not safe in New York its police system is a failure. These are essentials and al consideration of gambling-house raids and saloon-closing must remain farcical while the graver conditions of crime indicated are possible. They emphasize the fallacy of the theory that a police force exists primarily to prevent gambling and Sunday drinking and show the need of a return to the first principles of police protection for the good name of the city. Closed saloon doors and Night Court sentences for soliciting are a poor recompense for a woman assaulted and murdered in her kitchen in broad day. —New York World.

SMALL MANUFACTORIES.

Practical Suggestions on Establishing Local Enterprises.

Mr. Editor:—I read with much interest your article citing benefits of small manufactories. I have given much thought to this matter and feel sure that the manufacture of screen frames, lawn swings and settees, clothes pins, butter trays, baseball bats, rolling pins, towel and hat racks, toothpicks, step ladders, washboards, ironing boards, axe, hoe, fork, hammer, hatchet and other tool handles, would pay handsomely. There is a good market for these goods and there is an inexhaustible supply of oak, hickory, beech, maple, elm, gum, ash, birch, sycamore, dogwood, persimmon, walnut and other hardwoods growing upon both banks of 125 miles of the Cape Fear river, which can be delivered here at a low price. The machinery for the manufacture of these articles is not expensive and cheap labor can make and finish the goods.

Furniture can be manufactured of some of the hardwoods mentioned, and there is no question as to that being profitable. PROGRESS.

WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY

Second Annual Meeting of Stockholders and Directors Held Yesterday — Annual Reports Re-election of Officers.

The second annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wilmington Star Co., Inc., followed by the regular annual meeting of the directors, was held yesterday afternoon in the editorial rooms of the paper, on Princess street, a large majority of the stock being represented in person.

The directors met first with President Wm. E. Springer presiding and Mr. D. C. Love, secretary and treasurer of the company, kept a record of the proceedings. At this meeting the reports of officers were received and approved for submission to the annual meeting of the stockholders which will be held at 4 o'clock. The report of Mr. Love, the secretary and treasurer of the company, and of the vice president and general manager of the property, showed a very satisfactory year's work from a financial standpoint and plans were laid for the continued improvement of the paper from its earnings from year to year as has been the accepted policy of the company since its organization. The reports were received and ordered transmitted to the stockholders for their consideration and approval.

The stockholders met immediately after the adjournment of the directors and Mr. Wm. H. Sprunt was called to the chair, while Mr. Love was requested to act as secretary. The reports of officers were submitted by the Board of Directors and were found very gratifying in every respect. Upon motion they were accepted and placed on file. This was followed by a general discussion of the affairs of the paper, at which many helpful and profitable suggestions were brought out and which will be adopted in the management of the property.

Upon motion of Mr. W. S. Bernard, the old board of directors was unanimously re-elected as follows: Messrs. D. C. Love, Wm. H. Sprunt, Wm. E. Springer, J. O. Carr, H. C. McQueen, Walker Taylor and Jos. E. Thompson. The directors having recommended the declaration of a small dividend and suggested the investment of any further surplus in the improvement and upbuilding of the property, the same was unanimously approved by the stockholders. There being no further business, the stockholders adjourned.

At subsequent meeting of the directors, satisfaction was expressed at the action of the stockholders and upon motion the old officers were unanimously re-elected as follows:

President—Wm. E. Springer.

Vice President and General Manager—J. E. Thompson.

Secretary and Treasurer—DeWitt C. Love.

Attorney—J. O. Carr, Esq.

There being no further business the directors adjourned sunbject to call.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Negro Man Fined for Assault With Deadly Weapon—Other Cases.

In the Recorder's Court yesterday morning, Mack Faircloth, an aged colored man, was the principal defendant. He was charged with assault with deadly weapon, it being alleged that he pointed a pistol at another negro during a quarrel the two men had a few days ago. He was fined $15 and costs and unless he raises the amount will probably be sent to the county farm instead of the county roads, as his physical condition is such that he would be of little service in road construction work. A short time ago, it will be recalled, Faircloth shot his wife and then turned the weapon upon himself in an effort to commit suicide. The woman was seriously wounded and Faircloth himself was painfully wounded. Faircloth was sent to the county farm for several months for shooting his wife and his time expired only recently.

Three drunks were required to pay $5 each and the costs. The case against Louis McDonald, charged with assault with deadly weapon on John Whitfield, colored, some time ago, which was to have been tried yesterday, was continued until today. The difficulty occurred in a pool room on South Seventh street and resulted from a quarrel over a pool game. Whitfield has been in the James Walker Memorial Hospital ever since and for a while it looked as if he would die from the wound.

The funeral of the late Mr. Isaac Bear, whose sad death was announced yesterday morning, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the late residence, Sixth and Chesnut streets, and the interment will be in Oakdale cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. J. S. Mendelssohn, rabbi of the congregation of the Temple of Israel, and they will be largely attended by many people not only from this city but from a distance. On account of the funeral of Mr. Bear, the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce has been postponed from this afternoon until tomorrow afternoon.

WERE RUMORS OF A RECALL

Much Wild Talk Indulged in on Street But Nothing Definite is Known. New City Council is Being Criticised.

In the absence of any formal meeting of the new city council yesterday, after the stress of two strenuous city campaigns and the excitement of the organization of the new government from day to day, it was hard for the "proletariat" to subside and the air was rife during the day with all sorts of rumors as to a possible recall of one, two, three, four and maybe all of the newly elected city council. However, a thorough investigation of these rumors and reports early last night failed to disclose the fact that they were anything more than street talk, and, therefore, hardly worthy of consideration.

Current report had it that the alleged movement for a recall had its origin with the allied organizations under the name of the "Good Government League," but prominent members of this organization emphatically denied that any such movement had been started or was at all seriously considered; that while all the acts of the council were not approved by the leaders of the movement, they believed that all good citizens would stand upon the principle of giving the council the widest possible latitude and that nothing whatever would be done to handicap them in their work for the upbuilding of the city of Wilmington. It is denied that the leaders of the movement or any others to their knowledge have had any meeting with this purpose in view and that the organization will uphold the hands of the council in every way possible.

The chief criticism heard on the streets is in the creation of new salaried offices without the information as to the basis upon which these new offices were established, which all goes back in its last analysis to the fact that the newspapers have not been given the fullest opportunity to place the councilmen in their correct light before the community as to the reasons for this or that action. However, this stage of the organization of the government is now happily passed and it is the conservative opinion of the best people of the city that there is no reason for all this hue and cry about a "recall". In this connection the following was handed the Star last night for publication by a gentleman who is not affiliated with any of the organizations which were recently factors in the city campaign:

Editor Star:—I ask space in your valuable paper to raise a protest against any suggestion, however slight it may be, of employing the "recall" against any member or members of our newly-elected commissioners. It seems inconceivable that such a matter should be seriously considered, even before the gentlemen so recently elected have had opportunity to perfect organization of the city government, and while it cannot be said that I voted for all of the commissioners, I feel that the city is fortunate in having chosen representative business men whose good faith and interested effort in the city's welfare cannot be questioned. To hamper these gentlemen or harrass them now, in the incipiency of their work, by any such suggestions, seems not only most unwise but unreasonable as well, and in the judgment of conservative men any such movement, so soon inaugurated, could proceed only from disappointed candidates or aspirants for position, on the city pay rolls. Certainly it is only fair that we should concede to a set of men, so recently endorsed by a large majority of the taxpayers of the city, the ability to weigh well the perplexing problems presenting in a reorganization of all the functions of the city government, and to settle these questions wisely. It is not fair, nor is it just, to criticise or condemn the conclusions of these gentlemen without at least being in possession of all the information and all the facts upon which they acted in the private deliberations of their board, and I think I voice the sentiment of dispassionate and conservative citizens in condemning this premature and groundless censure which has astounded and distressed the people today.

Let all the citizens work together for the success without further criticism of this administration.

beginning of every annual meeting of the Synod, also that while they are elected for one year only, every officer is eligible for re-election.

Three tellers were appointed to distribute, collect and count the ballots. A majority of the ballots cast is necessary to the election of an officer of the Synod. The first ballot cast was for president, and notwithstanding his resignation, Mr. Boozer received a majority of the ballots cast. He stated at once to the body that he could not serve in the capacity of president to the body another year. A second ballot was cast, and Rev. M. M. Kinard, Ph. D., of Salisbury, was elected president. The next ballot was for vice president, and two were necessary to election, Rev. J. E. Shenk, of Greensboro, being elected to this office.

Just before the ballot was cast for secretary, Mr. J. P. Cook made a motion recommending that one ballot be cast for Rev. H. A. McCullough, of Albemarle, representing the unanimous vote of the Synod for his re-election as secretary. Mr. McCullough objected to this course saying that he preferred that the individual ballots of the members of the Synod be cast, and that he would much prefer that these ballots be cast for some member of the body other than himself. The ballots were cast and Mr. McCullough received a large majority of the same and was re-elected secretary. Mr. McCullough was also re-elected statistical secretary.

The next ballot was for treasurer, and Mr. James D. Heilig, of Salisbury, was re-elected. A motion was made that one ballot be cast for Mr. Heilig, representing the unanimous vote of the Synod for his re-election, but he objected and the vote was taken in the usual way, he receiving all but three of the votes cast.

Mr. Boozer requested the tellers to escort the officers just elected to his desk, and they did so, after which Mr. Boozer conducted the installation service.

Dr. Kinard in taking his seat as president expressed his appreciation of the honors conferred upon him and said that while he appreciated this, he was sensible also of the responsibilities which the office brought with it, and asked for the co-operation of every member of the Synod in his work as president, the co-operation not only of those who had voted for him, but the co-operation as well, of those who had voted for someone else as president.

Mr. McCullough asked at this time for an interpretation of the work of the statistical secretary, and after the decision that his work is just what is outlined in the constitution he stated that not a sufficient number of parochial reports to submit a complete statistical report at this time. He then aske if the Synod desired him to secure the remaining 15 of the 67 reports necessary to make a complete report, and the answer from the Synod was in the affirmative.

Papers intended for the Synod were presented at this time. J. D. Heilig submitted his report as treasurer of the Synod, which was the most gratifying report of the finances that the Synod has received at any time. This report showed that during the year funds to the amount of more than ten thousand dollars have been received for the different interests of the work of the church in this Synod. Rev. T. E. Weaver, a theological candidate, Rev. C. L. Miller, of Hickory, and Rev. E. C. Cronk, D. D., of Columbia, were welcomed as advisory members of the Synod.

On motion the Synod decided to hear the address of Rev. C. L. Miller, Thursday morning immedately following the opening devotional service. Mr. Miller is a member of the Tennessee Synod, and this address will be the fraternal address from the Synod of Tennessee to the Synod of North Carolina.

Rev. W. A. Snyder announced the hours for the sessions of the Synod as follows: 9 A. M. to 12; 3 to 5 P. M. and 8 P. M. The afternoon sessions were delayed in adjournment a little beyond 5 o'clock.

It was an expression of appreciation in which the entire Synod united when a vote of thanks to Mr. J. D. Heilig, treasurer, was adopted by rising.

Last Night's Session.

The subject of Christian Education was that which claimed the attention of the Synod last evening. Rev. C. L. Camp, of High Point, presided. Addresses were delivered by Rev. M. M. Kinard and Rev. J. P. Miller. Each address was a thoughtful, instructive presentation of the subject. Both speakers urged an increase of that spirit of loyalty to the church and to the best interests of the student which will give to the church schools the equipment and support they need.

A delightful reception followed in Luther Memorial Hall, and this social hour will be remembered as one of the most pleasant features of the Synod. After the address and music the ladies of St. Paul's Church served ices and cake. The decorations of palms and ferns were attractively arranged in the building.

The Synod will convene in regular business session this morning and much business will be transacted. This evening missions will be the subject for consideration. Rev. C. I. Morgan will speak on "Our Home Field," and "Foreign Missions" will be the subject of the address of Rev. R. C. Holland, D. D., Missionary Secretary of the United Synod of the South.

Laymen's Missionary Movement.

One of the most interesting and one of the most instructive meetings to be held during the Synod will be that of the Laymen's Missionary Movement which will be held this afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, instead of at 3 o'clock. The laymen are urged to be present promptly, and this meeting will interest others as well. The presence of Rev. E. C. Cronk, D. D., of Columbia, S. C., will add much to the interest of the meeting. Dr. Cronk is general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement in the Lutheran Church, and is in close touch with the different phases of this great work. He will be heard with special interest. No organization of the church is more magnetic, more interesting and more

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Memory of Confederate Dead Honored in Wilmington and Throughout State—Rev. J. M. Plowden Orator of Day.

Throughout North Carolina, yesterday was observed as Memorial Day—the one day in the year set apart in honor of the Confederate dead, those who fell in battle during the struggle between the States and those who have since answered the last roll call. The day was pretty generally observed in Wilmington, especially in the afternoon when beautiful and impressive exercises were held at Oakdale cemetery, under the auspices of Cape Fear Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy. The attendance was large and all joined reverently in the spirit of the occasion.

The usual procession of military and Confederate organizations from the lodge in the cemetery to the base of the Confederate monument on the grounds formed promptly at 4:30 o'clock in the following order: The Wilmington Light Infantry, three companies of the Boys' Brigade, the orator, Rev. J. M. Plowden; the chaplain, Rev. Wm. E. Cox, Superintendent T. Donlan, of Oakdale cemetery; Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, United Confederate Veterans, Cape Fear Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy; George Davis Chapter, Children of the Confederacy. Mr. G. J. Boney was chief marshal and he had as his aides Messrs. Jesse Dickson, G. B. Casteen, W. M. Hankins and T. King. Arriving at the base of the monument a few minutes later, the exercises were held from an improvised stand within the enclosure, beginning with the singing of "They Sleep," by the choir, which was composed of Mrs. Cameron MacRae and Mrs. Greene Fenley, Mr. J. B. Fenley and Mr. Cecil Butt, after which prayer was offered by the chaplain, Rev. Wm. E. Cox, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church.

The orator of the occasion, Rev. J. M. Plowden, a well known Presbyterian minster, was then introduced by the chief marshal, Mr. G. J. Boney, in a few appropriate remarks. Yesterday was the anniversary of the death of Stonewall Jackson and the speaker was asked to speak particularly of his record as a man and soldier. Mr. Plowden made a splendid address and was heard with the deepest interest. He spoke only about 30 minutes and the gathering could easily have listened to him 30 minutes longer without growing the least bit weary. He said that in honoring Stonewall Jackson we are honoring ourselves and he then paid tribute to the good women of the South during the struggle between the States and also to the Daughters of today who are keeping alive the memory of the brave men who fought so gallantly in the defense of the Southland. He then paid a tribute to Stonewall Jackson, who was a devout Christian man and who placed religion first in everything. The speaker said that religion will make a person a better man, a better soldier and better everything. The cause of the Confederacy died with Jackson, said the speaker, who declared that no other name had such terror in the North as that of Jackson, who stands out as a unique figure of the war. The speaker called to mind the gloom and despair which settled over the neighborhood in which he lived when the people realized that Jackson was dead. The speaker was a child at the time, but he remembered distinctly the shock produced by the announcement of the passing of Jackson. Mr. Plowden spoke at some length of the religious side of the life of Jackson, stating that saying anything of Jackson without mentioning his religious character would be an injustice to him. In conclusion the speaker urged the veterans present to live such lives as to be ready to answer the roll call on high when it is called and be prepared to dwell forevermore with God.

After the singing of "For All the Saints, Who From Their Labors Rest," by the choir, Mr. Boney read the names of those who lost their lives in the service of the Confederacy, 1861-1865, and the names of the veterans who have died since last Memorial Day. The choir then sang, "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers," after which Mr. Boney stated Mr. T. J. Capps, of Onslow county, who took Stonewall Jackson from the battlefield, was present and he asked Mr. Capps to come upon the stand. There were calls for Mr. Capps from the audience and the old soldier went upon the stand and told briefly of the incident, which was of much interest to all present. Mr. Boney then read some of the rules governing the presentation of crosses of honor. After which those entitled to receive these distinctions at the time were called out, but only one responded, Mrs. R. W. Hicks, daughter of the late Mr. Chas. C. Spears, of Virginia. The choir sang, "Soldiers of Christ Arise," followed by the doxology and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Wm. E. Cox. At the conclusion of the exercises, a salute was fired by the Wilmington Light Infantry.

The music for the occasion was in charge of Mr. E. H. Munson, who presided at the organ. Mr. E. C. Craft was cornetist. The music was one of the attractive features of the exercises.

Much of the credit for the delightful manner in which the exercises passed off is due to the committees in charge, who worked most faithfully and who are deeply grateful to the veterans, musicians and others, who assisted them. The committees in charge were as follows:

General Committee on Arrangements—Mrs. T. E. Sprunt, chairman; Mrs. Gabriel Holmes, Mrs. J. Hicks Bunting, Miss Julia James and Miss Lilly Brown.

Making Laurel Wreathes—Miss Hettie James, Mrs. F. A. Lord, Mrs. Martin Willard, Mrs. Mitt Moore, Miss Lena Beery, Mrs. W. B. Cooper, Mrs. J. C. Stevenson, Miss Julia James, Mrs. Gabriel Holmes, Mrs. R. C. Cantwell, Mrs. W. R. French, Mrs. W. G. Whitehead, Mrs. Jane DeRosset, Mrs. Jos. D. Smith, Mrs. Louis H. Skinner, Mrs. R. H. SEMINOLE TO NAVY YARD.

Leaves for Norfolk Today for Usual Summer Overhauling.

To receive the regular Summer overhauling and repairs, the revenue cutter Seminole, Capt. R. O. Crisp, will leave this morning for the Norfolk Navy Yard, where she will remain for a month or more. The Seminole was repaired last Summer at a private shipyard at Newport News.

The Seminole completed her Winter cruising the first of April and since that time has remained in port to await orders from the Department. There will probably be some changes in the staff of officers before she returns to port again as Capt. Daniels has been ordred to the cutter to succeed Capt. R. O. Crisp, the present commanding officer, who is trying for the position of captain commandant of the Revenue Cutter Service. It will be recalled that First Lieut. Covall, former executive officer of the cutter here, has recently been placed in temporary command of the revenue cutter Yamacraw at Savannah.

The cutter will reach the navy yard tomorrow, where she will be placed in drydocks.

ANNUAL MEETING FRIDAY.

Will Be Held at Chamber of Commerce—More New Members.

On account of the funeral of Mr. Isaac Bear this afternoon at 4 o'clock, which will be attended by a number of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, the annual meeting which was announced for today has been postponed to tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock. However, members will vote for new officers for the ensuing year at the Chamber today. The result of the election will not be made known until the meeting. No other member has been suggested for president of the organization other than Mr. M. J. Corbett yesterday. Mr. Louis Hall has been placed on the board as a candidate for vice president.

Ten new members were announced at the Chamber yesterday, as follows Messrs. R. C. Cantwell, J. W. Duls, W. J. Craig, H. B. Peschau, C. W. Woodward, M. G. Tiencken, J. T. Burke, C. F. W. Rehder, Foltz & Kendrick, and W. H. Chadbourn.

Capt. Crisp is Grateful.

Capt. R. O. Crisp, commanding officer of the revenue cutter Seminole, which departs today for the navy yard at Norfolk, desires to express his appreciation to the many citizens of Wilmington who have endorsed him for the position at the head of the Revenue Cutter Service, recently vacated by Capt. Worth G. Ross. While the matter of a selection for this high position is still pending before the Treasury Department, the appointment is likely to be made at any time, and Capt. Crisp desires to show appreciation of efforts in his behalf, on account of leaving for an indefinite period.

ASHORE AND LEAKING.

New Boat of East River Lumber Co., in Distress Near Wrightsville.

Word was received yesterday by the tug boat companies here that the new river steamer recently purchased by the East River Lumber Company for towing between Wilmington and Smith's Bridge, was ashore and leaking at Rich Inlet, near Wrightsville, and wanted assistance.

The boat came down from Norfolk to Beaufort through the canal and on the last lap of the voyage from the latter place to the Cape Fear bar she began leaking at sea and was forced to put into Rich Inlet, where it is reported she was beached to prevent her from sinking. The boat is a small river tug and will be used in towing lighters of lumber.

Either the Sea King or the Blanche will leave this morning to go to the assistance of the vessel. She is in distress about 15 miles above Wrightsville Beach.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

Report of President.

Dear Brethren in Christ: We enter upon this, the 108th annual convention of our Synod with profound gratitude to Almighty God for His manifold blessings upon us during the year, and also for His blessings upon the whole Church in its labors for the salvation of souls and the extension of His Kingdom.

We have come together to confer and counsel concerning the work of our Lord in that part of His Kingdom represented by this Synod. In this work we acknowledge but one Master, even Christ Jesus, He is the "Lord of the harvest," Let us therefore invoke His blessing and the guidance of His Spirit, so that in our deliberations we may do His will in all things. Without His aid our planning and our legislation for the upbuilding of the Church will come to naught. Our sufficiency is of Him and our wisdom and strength must come from Him.

The year has been rather uneventful, and yet some progress has been made. The awakening of the laymen, the visible results of which are seen in part in the more general adoption of better business methods and systematic finance in church work, and also the development of the spirit of liberality have been characteristic marks of the year's progress. But while there has been progress along these lines, we must note with regret the very small net increase in communicant membership. Our annual net gain for the past ten years has not been more than 150. Our Synod is getting hoary with age, but is still a mere dwarf in size. There is a reason for this, which reason is stated by the president of the United Synod in his last report thus: "Our numerical increase is slow, and it cannot be expected to be otherwise in the conditions that exist. Immigration helps us comparatively little. Our work at home consists chiefly in holding the natural increase of our membership." Is it not true that we make these conditions an excuse for not doing more aggressive work for the Master? If we succeed in getting into the church those whose antecedents were Germans or Scandinavians we are satisfied and stop. We seem to think we have no right to try to lead to Christ other unchurched and unsaved people.

Why should we depend solely upon immigration and Lutheran settlements for fields in which to garner for the Lord? The obligation is on us as much as it is on any others, to go out into the lanes, streets and highways and bring them in. If the contention be correct that the methods of our work do not appeal to people who have not been reared under Lutheran influence and therefore we cannot reach them, is it not time to modify some of our unessential practices if by so doing we can more fully meet our obligation to God and to the unsaved world about us? A church organization as large as ours ought certainly to be able to make a much better showing in numerical increase than we have been doing.

Students for The Ministry.

It is a source of gratification to us all to know of the large number of promising young men we have in preparation for the work of the ministry. One has just completed the course and applies for ordination at this convention of the Synod. We have in the middle class one at our own Seminary one at Mt. Airy, and four in the junior class at our Seminary and one at Mt. Airy. In college are seven, four of whom will enter some seminary next Fall. The others, together with one who remained out this year to teach, are in the higher classes in college. Still another is preparing for the work of a foreign medical missionary. This makes in all 17. There may be others of whom I do not know.

Vacancies.

Another cause for gratitude and encouragement is the small number of vacancies in the Synod. Only one pastorate has been all the year without the stated means of grace and this one will have a regular pastor after June the first. Three others were vacant several months each, although one of them had supply services all the while. St. Mark's at China Grove, and the Granite Quarry pastorate are the only vacancies at present, and St. Mark's has extended a call. The Mooresville Mission field will soon become vacant, but Mr. M. L. Kester has been secured as supply for the Summer.

Calls Accepted.

1. After a long vacancy the St. Matthews-St. Peter's pastorate secured a regular pastor in the person of Rev. W. C. Buck, who began work September 1, 1910.

2. Rev. Charles P. McLaughlin entered upon the work as pastor of St. James, Concord, to which he had been duly called, on October 1, 1910.

3. St. John's congregation, Cabarrus county, after having been without a regular pastor for more than a year, were delighted to have Rev. J. J. Long, accept their call and take charge November 1, 1910.

4. On April 16, 1911, Rev. O. W. Aderholdt became pastor of the Salem-Grace pastorate, whose call he had formally accepted.

5. Mr. John L. Smith, of the Senior class in the United Synod Theological Seminary, has accepted a call to the Davidson pastorate, to take effect June 1, 1911, subject to his ordination by the Synod at this convention.

Resignations.

1. The resignation of Rev. N. B. Aull, as pastor of the St. Mark's-China Grove took effect September 25, 1910, when he removed to Fairfax, S. C.

2. Rev. J. A. Linn gave me due notice of his resignation of the Granite Quarry pastorate, which became effective April 30, 1911.

3. Rev. B. S. Brown resigned the Salem-Grace pastorate and removed to Blacksburg, Va., the last of December, 1910.

New Members Received.

1. Rev. C. J. Sax was received by letter of transfer from the Tennessee Synod, May 3, 1910.

2. The letter of transfer of Rev. C. P. McLoughlin from the Alleghany Synod, General Synod, was received October 22, 1910.

3. On March 16, 1911, Rev. J. J. Long forwarded to me his letter of transfer from the South Carolina Synod.

4. On April 17, 1911, I received the letter of transfer of Rev. O. W. Aderholdt from the Tennessee Synod.

5. The letter of dismission of Rev. N. C. Buck from the Virginia Synod was deposited with me May 5, 1911.

Acting on the authority vested in me by the constitution I received these brethren and had their names enrolled as members of the Synod.

Installations.

1. On June 19, 1910, Rev. H. E. Beatty was installed pastor of St. Matthew's, Wilmington, Rev. W. A. Snyder preached the sermon and conducted the service.

2. On August 7, 1910, Rev. C. J. Sax was installed pastor of Frieden's and Sharon by the president of the Synod, the service being held at Frieden's.

3. The installation of Rev. C. P. McLaughtin, pastor of St. James', Concord, took place November 20, 1910. The addresses on the occasion were made by Rev. M. L. Stirewalt, of Lenoir College, by special request, and Rev. R. L. Patterson, after which Pastor Patterson conducted the installation service.

4. In August, 1910, Rev. H. M. Brown installed Rev. J. A. L. Miller pastor of the Forsyth pastorate, the service being held at Nazareth church.

Dedication.

On Sunday, October 23, 1910, the beautiful new Macedonia church, of Burlington, Rev. C. Brown Cox, pastor, was consecrated to the service of God. Rev. R. C. Holland, D. D., preached the sermon. The president of Synod conducted the consecration service and made an appropriate address. This is easily one of the best churches in our Synod.

Application for Ordination.

Mr. John L. Smith, who has just graduated from our own seminary, applies for ordination at this convention of the Synod.

Supply Work.

1. Student J. L. Smith supplied for four months last Summer St. Paul's and Bethel during the extended vacation of Pastor Sowers.

2. While the pastor, Rev. C. I. Morgan, was traveling abroad last Summer, Haven Church, Salisbury, was served by Student M. L. Kester.

3. The Davidson pastorate was served by Student E. C. Cooper during his vacation last year.

4. Since October, 1910, Rev. A. D. Brown has preached once a Sunday for the congregation of St. Mark's, China Grove.

5. I have learned that Rev. G. I. Lenker, of Southern Pines, served the Burlington pastorate as supply during the enforced absence of Pastor Cox on account of the prolonged illness of Mrs. Cox.

The Conferences.

The presidents of the conferences report that each held two meetings during the year. All of the meetings except the Summer meeting of the Northern Conference, were well attended and were satisfactory and helpful. The principal topics discussed have been on missions and education. Our liturgy and church architecture received some attention.

At the August meeting of the Northern Conference this resolution was adopted and is hereby submitted to the Synod for its consideration: "Resolved, That this conference petition the Synod at its next regular convention to appoint a standing committee on church architecture whose duty it shall be to make a study of church architecture and be prepared to give advice and suggestions to any who may desire information on the subject; and that all pastors and congregations expecting to build be requested to confer with this committee before plans are selected and the work undertaken." At the same meeting a petition was received from the Lutheran congregation at Landis, N. C., asking for admission into the Synod through the conference. Inasmuch as the petition was accompanied by a constitution in entire agreement with the constitution of the Synod, the Conference, acting under authority vested in it by the Synod, received the congregation in the name of the Synod and authorized it to be enrolled.

The president of the Northern Conference in his report says: "At the November meeting the missionary workers amongst the good women requested the privilege of organizing a conferential convention to meet with the Conference each year at the Fall meeting. The request was granted and on Saturday afternoon such organization was effected."

Laymen's Missionary Meeting.

At the request of the laymen of St. Paul's the executive committee set aside Thursday afternoon of the convention for a Laymen's Missionary meeting. After doing this it was deemed advisable to cut out of the programme for this meeting of the Synod the topics on beneficence. I, therefore, assumed the authority to do this, and notified the speakers to whom the topics were assigned that they need not prepare their addresses. I trust this change meets with your approval and that you will ratify the action.

Recommendations.

1. Synod's Indebtedness:

(a) Is a note for $1,500 to the Board of Church Extension for money borrowed to aid in building mission churches. I recommend that the treasurer be authorized to pay $200 on this note annually until the whole amount has been paid.

(b) Is an obligation for $225.58 due the United Synod, as shown by statement from the treasurer of that body. I recommend that our treasurer be instructed to settle this account immediately after the adjournment of the Synod.

(c) Is an unpaid balance of the $1,000 pledged to the Collegiate Institute two years ago. I recommend that the treasurer be authorized to draw on the synodical fund for the amount still needed to meet this obligation in full, after using what has been contributed for this specific purpose.

2. The Laymen's Missionary Movement has assumed proportions that give promise of great things for the church. So important and far-reaching is this movement that we should give it all the encouragement possible. To this end I recommend that the committee on programme for each regular convention of the Synod be authorized to provide for a Laymen's period. In order that ample time be found for this period I recommend that the discussion of the topic "Beneficence" be discontinued. This arrangement to be subject to change by the Synod at any time.

Miscellaneous.

Fifty-three years ago our venerable father, Rev. G. D. Bernheim, D. D., together with Rev. J. A. Linn, Sr., now deceased, organized the congregation which is our host at this time. Later Dr. Bernheim became the pastor of the congregation, which he served faithfully and acceptably for twelve years. Still later, from 1892 to 1899, he was pastor of St. Matthew's church of this city. For these reasons, together with the very high esteem in which he is held by the Synod, we had hoped he would be able to be with us on this occasion as the chief guest of honor, but God has willed otherwise. On account of very feeble health, the Doctor was unable to make the trip, much to his disappointment and regret of the entire Synod.

Now brethren of the Synod, I thank you most heartily for the honor you have bestowed upon me in making me your president for three years. This honor was thrust upon me against my will and undeserved, and the duties and responsibilities of the office were taken up with misgivings. Now I lay down the trust, thankful for the courtesy and helpful consideration shown me, and appreciative of your indulgence in my mistakes and shortcomings.

Respectfully submitted,
V. Y. BOOZER.

VETERANS AT LAURINBURG.

Reunion Yesterday—Newspaper Contest Ends, Prizes Awarded.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Laurinburg, N. C., May 10.—There was a reunion of the local camp of Confederate veterans held here today. The attendance was large and the eatables were plentiful. The programme varied with speeches, exercises by the children's chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. The principal speakers of the day were Capt. W. H. McLaurin and Mr. Dougald Stewart. The other big feature was the basket dinner served on the lawn in front of Capt. McLaurin's residence on Church street.

The heated contest which has been conducted by the Laurinburg Exchange, closed today, and the results were declared at 4 o'clock this afternoon to a vast crowd which thronged the street in front of the N. B. Dawson Furniture store, where the prizes have been on exhibit. The first prize an upright grand piano, was won by Miss Nancy Coble, who received nearly five million votes. The second prize, a mahogany suite of furniture, was won by Miss Farmer, daughter of T. K. Farmer, who lives at Laurel Hill. The third prize, a diamond ring, was won by Miss Minnie Warwick. The fourth prize, a handsome chest of silver, was won by Miss Bessie Muse. The handsome art square was won by Mrs. Gibson.

MAKE MONEY.

Here is an interesting story: Some time at your leisure sit down and make out a list of all the people you know, and estimate the amount of money each one earns in a year. Total it up. The amount will be surprisingly large. Now, of all those people only the few who save something really make anything at all. Simply Earning Money is Not Making It. What slips through the earning fingers is finally made by some one else. Don't Forget That.

BITTERNESS MARKED DEBATE.

Exciting Day in Ohio Senate—Bribery Investigation.

Columbus, Ohio, May 10.—Following an exciting day, marked by denunciation of the pressure of detectives and those pushing the criminal investigation of corruption in the Legislature, the Senate today by a vote of 2 to 22, defeated the Greeves bill, which would have annulled the immunity provision of the law for inquiries by committees of the Assembly. This is the measure in the House passed hurriedly yesterday, after the members became aroused over the Senate's action in appointing a committee of Senators for what representatives considered whitewashing purposes.

The Senate's debate was marked by bitterness.

ICE! ICE!! ICE!!!

-:-YES-:-

ICE! ICE!! and ICE!!!

One might almost be led to believe that this community had never seen Pure Ice until this good year 1911.

A great man once said "there is nothing new under the sun" and this is so to a great extent when it comes to the manufacture of ice.

Now, as a matter of fact, The Independent Ice Company has been for ten years and is still making as pure, as clean, as healthful to use ice as can be found in all North Carolina. We defy anyone to prove to the contrary. Our prices are as low as the lowest. We give full guaranteed weight. Our service is the best Wilmington ever had. We have a polite, accommodating corps of officials who will thank any one to report any act of neglect or discourtesy on the part of our wagon drivers or helpers.

THE BAPTIST CONVENTION

Delegates from Every Southern State to Assemble in Jacksonville, Fla., This Week—Something of Great Denomination.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 10.—Greater in number than the British Parliament or the Congress of the United States, the Southern Baptist Convention will meet here Wednesday with delegates present from every State in the South.

The convention is made up of messengers, or delegates from churches, association, State conventions, missionary societies and Sunday schools. All Baptist churches are independent. Therefore the convention has no authority to bind the churches in its territory. Its action is advisory not compulsory. Ministers and laymen are admitted into the convention on the same basis without any official distinction between the clergy and laymen.

Te Baptist cry through the ages has been: "A church without a Pope, and and a State without a King." They have always held as a fundamental principle, that the individual soul is competent to deal with God. The Bible is their only creed and sole guide in matters of faith and doctrine. From its teachings they hold that all men are born in sin, and can find salvation only through faith in Jesus Christ. They accept the vicarious atonement of Christ, believing in the death on the cross; his resurrection from the grave and His ascension to the right hand of the Father as the foundation and security of salvation. Baptists insist upon what is called believes baptism as a prerequisite to church membership, in the independence of the local church, and hold that each church is a spiritual, democratic body, separate from the State, owing its first allegiance to God. In the Baptist church there are no priestly orders. Ministers are solely set apart to the work of the ministry without official distinction, or authority, one over another, the terms "Pastor," "bishop," and "elder" being different names for the same office.

The convention has three Boards: the foreign mission board, with headquarters at Richmond, the home mission board, with headquarters at Atlanta, and the Sunday school board, with headquarters at Nashville. The work of the foreign mission board is to preach the gospel in foreign lands. The home mission board looks after mission work in the home field, which includes the Southern States, Cuba and the Panama section. The Sunday school board is the head of the Sunday school work, and publishes Sunday school helps, periodicals and books for use in the Sunday schools and Young People's Societies. The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, the School of the Prophets, located at Louisville, Ky., is also under the control of the Southern Baptist Convention.

According to the best available figures, there are about 6,280,649 Baptists. Of this number 4,110,873 are in the South, 2,218,911 of the Southern Baptists are white, 1,891,962 colored. In the Northern States there are 1,190,293 Baptists. There are 22,438 churches connected with the Southern Baptists Convention. They make up the largest religious denomination in the South. The Baptists are said to have 39.5 per cent. of the church membership of the South, the Methodists 26.5 per cent., Catholics 15.9 per cent., Disciples 5.2 per cent., Presbyterians 4.9 per cent., Episcopalians 1.7 per cent., and all others 5.9 per cent.

The churches connected with this convention raised last year for carrying on their work $9,474,777. Of this sum $1,836,519 was given for missions. The church property of the Southern Baptist Convention is valued at $37,203,522.

The Baptist lay no claim to apostolic succession, but their churches, in their co-operative work, are modeled after the churches found in the New Testament.

Roger Williams was not the first Baptist as some erroneously suppose. The history of the church runs back for hundreds of years before his day. John Runyun, who lived nearly an hundred years before Williams was born a Baptist. Williams was, however, the first to become a Baptist on American soil, and he organized the first American Baptist church in Providence, R. I. The first Baptist church in the South was constituted in South Carolina in 1682. The first established in North Carolina was in 1653, in Virginia 1714, in Tennessee 1770, in Georgia 1771, in Mississippi 1780, in Kentucky 1781, in Alabama 1803, in Florida 838. In 1762, when the great Baptist persecution began in Virginia, there were only 3,000 Baptists in the whole country. In twenty-four years they had increased to 35,000. In 1790 there were 50,000, in 1812, 175,000, in 1825 238,000, in 1840, 570,000, and in 1853, 1,258,765. Today there are in the South alone 5,301,166.

In 1814 the Baptists of the United States gave for Missions $134,112, and had only 64 missionaries employed. Last year they gave $865,585 for Missions, and there were eight hundred missionaries on the foreign field. In 1853 Southern Baptists raised $21,000 for Foreign Mission and $13,000 for Home Missions. There were two Foreign Missions and $13,000 for Home Missions. There were two Foreign Mission stations—one in Africa, and one in China. In these two fields nineteen missionaries were at work. The Home Missions Board reported seventy-seven missionaries at work, and 642 Baptisms in the same period. Last year $460,797 was raised for Foreign Missions in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention and there were 251 missionaries on the Foreign Field. The Home Board reported last year $283,436 with 1,066 missionaries at work and 188,000 baptisms.

EGYPTIAN COTTON.

Extent of Its Use in This Country Not Generally Known Here.

Washington, May 10.—A recent bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture said:

"That the requirements of the cotton goods industry necessitates the importation of approximately 60,000,000 pounds of Egyptian cotton costing $16,000,000, is probably unknown to the majority of readers, who read of the enormous crops of cotton produced in our Southern States and learn that during the last seven months all records have been broken and practically $500,000,000 worth of that staple has been exported.

"But it was the considerable value of this import that induced the United States Department of Agriculture several years ago to endeavor to develop Egyptian cotton culture in the United States in order to supply our own home market with a home grown product.

"Although experiments were made from different points from South Carolina to Texas, as well as in western Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Southern California, it was only in the Colorado river region that climatic and other conditions similar to those in the Nile Valley, and suited to the long staple Egyptian cotton were found. There 600,000 acres of excellent land are, or soon will be, under ditch in the Imperial Yuma, Salt and Gila valleys, and one-fifth this acreage could produce the amount of Egyptian cotton annually imported for the use of New England mills.

"For several years studies and experiments with the various Egyptian varieties have been undertaken in southern Arizona, southern California and Egypt and several bulletins have been issued giving detailed reports of the progress made and success achieved.

"Just now the department has issued under pamphlet (Bulletin 210, Bureau of Plant Industry) reporting the results of a visit to the cotton growing regions of Egypt in June and July, 1910, of the Bionomist of the department, in which is shown that the mixture of Hindi cotton is proving to be a serious burden upon the Egyptian cotton industry. Hindi is the name applied in Egypt to an undesirable type of cotton, with a short, weak fibre, that injures the high grade Egyptian varieties by infesting them with hybrids. The introduction of the Egyptian cotton into the United States brings also the problem of the Hindi cotton, and practicability of establishing a commercial culture of the Egyptian cotton in the United States depends largely upon the elimination of the Hindi contamination and other forms of diversity so that the fibre may be produced in a satisfactory condition of uniformity.

"Breeding experiments have shown that it is possible to secure a much higher degree of uniformity in Arizona than now exists in most of the cotton fields of Egypt. If reasonable care be used in maintaining the uniformity of these types, it does not seem that the American grown Egyptian cotton is likely to suffer any commercial disadvantage on the ground of lack of uniformity even though the Egyptian habit of hand-sorting is not followed.

"The exclusion of the Hindi cotton by an efficient system of selection will enable white varieties to be grown producing a longer and stronger fiber than the brown varieties are likely to afford, and will further the development and preservation of uniform strains of Egyptian cotton in the United States."

FIRST CONFEDERATE REUNION.

An Interesting Historical Fact, Cited by Lady of Asheville, N. C.

The first Confederate Reunion ever given in the South was given by Mrs. Col. J. M. Ray, the wife of Brigadier General J. M. Ray, of Asheville, N. C. Mrs. Ray, now in feeble health, lives in the same house where she gave the Reunion, as a surprise to her husband, on July 4th, 1889, to the Sixtieth North Carolina, of which Gen. Ray was commander.

This interesting historical fact is not generally known, and it is believed was given publicity in the Hendersonville Daily Herald for the first time in North Carolina.

Mrs. Ray, who was Miss Alice Caldwell, daughter of the late Col. R. D. Caldwell, formerly of Paris, Tenn., is well known by many of our citizens here. —MRS. COL. J. M. RAY.

TIRED, RUN-DOWN PEOPLE.

A North Carolina Man Suggests a Remedy.

Greensboro, N. C.—"For a long time I was so run-down and debilitated that I could hardly drag around. My appetite was poor and I could not sleep nights. I had tried different so-called tonics without benefit. I was advised to try your cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol, and I am so glad I did, for it gave me a hearty appetite. I soon commenced to sleep soundly and I feel strong, well and more active than I have for years. Every run-down or debilitated person should just give Vinol a trial." K. Allsbrook.

(We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

What Vinol did for Mr. Allsbrook it will do for every weak, run-down or debilitated person in this vicinity. To show our faith we will furnish the medicine free if it does not do as we claim. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

THE BALTIMORE STEAMER.

The Sun Discusses Interestingly the Possibilities of Development.

(Baltimore Sun.)

In an editorial commenting on the excursion of Baltimore merchants to the South in March, the Wilmington (N. C.) Star urges steamship connection between that port and Baltimore. Some time ago Wilmington was for a little while a stopping place for the vessels of the Baltimore & Carolina Steamship Company, but, not finding it profitable, the service was withdrawn. For this the Star censures both Wilmington and Baltimore. The business men of Wilmington, it said, "should have done their best to keep in steamship touch with Baltimore when they had the service." As to the benefits which are to come to Baltimore by such excursions as that which went South on the Suwannee the Star has no doubt. Our contemporary believes that while Baltimore has a large Southern trade it can be easily enlarged. In this connection it says:

"If Baltimore's present business in the South is even of larger proportions than formerly, there is plenty of opportunity to greatly enlarge it. It must be remembered that the South of today is a much more populous, prosperous and inviting field than it was even a few years ago, and that this section of the South is growing at a substantial and ever rapid rate. That makes it all the more important and timely that Baltimore should be making an effort to make the most of her opportunities in a territory which logically is hers."

The enterprising city of Houston recently sent out a party of merchants upon a special train which was called "The Houston Booster's Special." Commenting upon this successful expedition, the Houston Chronicle says that the modern way of city building is to go after business. "In the 20th century," it adds, "what counts is the man behind tre city." Business will not come unless it is encouraged or men go after it. The South is the place for Baltimore merchants to look for trade. Why should not Baltimore merchants make a trade and social excursion to the South on a special train within the next month, as other cities are doing in their territory? This would be a good subject for our new Trade Council and the Greater Baltimore Committee to take up. Such as excursion would be a great advertisement to Baltimore and might do wonders in extending its trade.

WARNING FROM COMMISSION.

Against False Entries Upon Bills of Lading and Other Records.

Washington, May 9.—In an order issued today the Interstate Commerce Commission again directs attention to the law that no false entries shall be made upon bills of lading or other railroad records.

The order was based upon shipments of cotton owing to which many irregularities have existed, and numerous frauds perpetrated. The commission says that possession by compresses having only contractual relations with carriers is not possession by the carrier, and bills of lading should not be issued except upon evidence of actual possession by the carrier.

The practice of misdating bills of lading, it is pointed out, is not only a violation of the law against making false entries, but has been the occasion for frauds upon purchasers under time contracts.

The order provides, therefore, that each bill of lading issued in exchange for another bill of lading shall bear a stamp indicating concretely the nature of the exchange with points of origin, destination and time of making the exchange so that all shipments, particularly of cotton, may be traced easily.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Appropriately Celebrated at Lumberton by Daughters of Confederacy.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., May 10.—Appropriate memorial exercises were observed here today, ex-Governor Glenn being the orator. The exercises were held in the Opera House at 11 o'clock and were largely attended. Mr. Glenn's speech was exceptionally fine. The opera house orchestra furnished music for the occasion. At the conclusion of the address the veterans were invited to the Court House where the Daughters of the Confederacy had prepared a bountiful dinner for them. While a goodly number of those who fought for the cause, they thought was right, were present, it is noticeable that on each reunion occasion the number in attendance grows less. In the afternoon the graves of the Confederate dead in the different cemeteries were decorated. The weather was ideal and everything passed off pleasantly.

HOMEOPATHIC PHYSICIANS.

Great Gathering in New York Last of This Month.

New York, N. Y., May 10.—Homeopathic physicians in all parts of the country are preparing for their annual pilgrimage to New York City, to attend the meeting and banquet of the Alumni Association of the New York Homeopathic Medical College, and the commencement exercises of the college. This yearly assemblage is the greatest gathering of homeopathic physicians and those interested in homeopathy which the country sees, and many travel long distances to attend. Particular interest attaches to the meeting this year. The semi-centennial of the college was celebrated last year, and more than 500 alumni contributed at that time to a great fund for a bacteriological laboratory for the college. The laboratory has since been constructed and outfitted, and is said to be the finest in the country. The microscopes alone are valued at $10,000, and everything else is on a similar baiss. The coming meeting will be the first opportunity of the alumni to see thier gift, and so an unusually large attendance is expected.

The commencement exercises will be held on Wednesday, May 31, at the Engineers' Club, on Fortieth street. The next day, Thursday, June 1, will be alumni day. There will be clinics in the morning for the visiting graduates at the college buildings at Sixty-third street and Eastern boulevard. These will demonstrate up-to-date laboratory methods, and will show the physicians who graduated years ago what is being done now with modern facilities. Luncheon will be served at the college at noon, and in the afternoon the annual meeting of the Alumni Association will be held.

In the evening teh two days' programme will be brought to a close with the alumni banquet, which will be held at the Hotel Astor. So many men of distinction in medical and educational circles have spoken at these annual dinners that the affair always attracts much attention, and the attendance numbers many hundreds. Dr. William L. Love, of Brooklyn, will be the toast master; Dr. Royal S. Copeland, formerly of the University of Michigan, at Ann Arbor, who is now completing his third year as dean of the college, will be one of the principal speakers. The others will be Dr. William Harvey King, ex-dean of the college; Dr. George W. McDowell, president of the Alumni Association; Justice Frederick E. Crane, of the Supreme Court; Comptroller William A. Prendergast, the Rev. John F. Carson, one of the best-known orators of Brooklyn; Melbert B. Cary, president of the trustees of the college; and ex-Congressman Cornelius A. Pugsley, of Peekskill.

Wilmington has one graduate of the college, Dr. W. E. Storm, who is a member of the class of '77. He has received an invitation to attend the exercises.

Reports of progress such as have never before been made to the alumni at the annual dinner will be made on this occasion, and the occasion should be one of great enthusiasm. Under Dean Copeland's guidance the college has grown so rapidly that it now has 212 students, the largest number in its history. Last year the attendance was 157. There were more new students admitted last fall than ever before. The report on medical education in the United States and Canada, which was made by Dr. Abraham Flexner to the Carnegie Foundation, places the New York Homeopathic Medical College in the first rank in every respect.

A subject which will be discussed at the meeting of the alumni will be the proposition now under consideration to limit the size of classes. The college has grown so rapidly that it is apparent that there will soon be too many students for the amount of room and the extent of the equipment, and it is proposed to establish strict limits on the number of students who may register.

Flower Hospital, which is owned and directed by the college, has also grown in size and usefulness during the year. A new contagious ward has been installed, and about $30,000 has been spent in various improvements. The hospital has the largest ambulance area of any hospital in the metropolis, serving a broad strip across Manhattan Island with three automobile and three horse ambulances. There are more than 7,000 ambulance calls annually. The long litigation over the Tilford estate, which has just ended, has released $107,000 for the college and hospital, which will be devoted at once to material improvements.

CRITICISE THE MANEUVERS.

Mobilization of Troops Shows Unpreparedness of Nation.

Savannah, Ga., May 10.—"Conditions at the maneuver camp are such that there is absolutely no opportunity for instruction for militia officers," said Col. M. J. O'Leary, of the first infantry, Georgia National Guard, today upon his return from a two weeks' stay at San Antonio, Texas.

"There is no opportunity for field instruction of the regular soldiers or maneuvers. The regiments simply march out and march back. If a soldier enters a field a complaint is made and some farmer wants damages."

Col. O'Leary said the mobilization, while a failure as far as maneuvers go, has been demonstrated the nation's "woeful unpreparedness for war." He declared that in event of trouble the National Guard would be the real backbone of the United States army.

"In event of intervention in Mexico," declared Col. O'Leary, "the National Guard must be called out to take its place in the United States army for intervention would mean that both Mexican Federals and insurrectos would oppose the American army."

The fellow was arraigned before the Mayor and fined $2.

Miss Gladys Thompson, who has just graduated at the James Sprunt Institute, has returned home. She will next Fall enter one of the best colleges in the South to complete her musical and art studies.

Miss Fay Memory, who is among the graduates at the Meredith College, has been chosen class poet. Miss Memory is a niece of the late Charles O'Neill and is one of our brightest young ladies.

News has just reached Whiteville of a amentable accident near Ashe, in Brunswick county. One day last week while Mr. Jesse Smith, a highly respected farmer, was returning from a store, driving his mule, some one passed on a bicycle. The animal took fright and ran away, throwing Mr. Smith from the wagon, inflicting wounds from which he died Friday morning. He leaves a widow, three sons and three daughters. Mrs. S. C. Formyduval, of Newberlin, in this county, is one of his daughters.

News has just reached Whiteville of a frightful hurricane that passed over that section of Columbus county, between Boardman and Evergreen, a few days ago, leaving havoc in its path. Mr. T. R. Britt had his buggy house blow down and destroyed and every pane of glass in his windows broken. Mr. K. W. Kissam was on his way from Boardman and met the storm. His mule and buggy were blown into a ditch. Pine trees went down like pipe stems. On his return home Mr. Kissam found general destruction and all of his bee hives overturned.

The water courses in this county are getting very low, owing to dry weather. It is said that Seven Creeks, a bold stream fed by seven large swamps, has almost stopped running.

Complaint is made that no attention is paid to the new fishing law, and certain parties in the lower part of this county offer $5 reward for evidence to convict offenders.

New Orleans, May 10.—The battleship Idaho arrived here this afternoon at 4 o'clock for a stay of five days after which the big war craft will go up the Mississippi river as far as Vicksburg.

Grand Theatre.

Some time ago the Grand offered a magnificent production of "Il Trovatore." So well liked was this production that the management commenced to try and get another on the same order with the result that today they are offering for Grandites' approval the great Grand Opera production of Verdis "A'ida." Most everyone is familiar with this wonderful opera and the opportunity to see it in the form of moving pictures will be hailed with delight. Mr. Kneisel has arranged a splendid musical programme for the express use of this picture and in all probability this picture will prove a bigger treat than did the famous "Il Trovatore." Another picture on the bill that will call for especial mention is the Pathe production of "A Flight over Lucerne Switzerland" in an airship. A big feature on the musical programme will be the new composition by Mr. A. Morton, the pianist at the Grand. His latest effort is in the form of a stirring march dedicated to Mr. J. M. Solky and entitled "Prince of Good Fellows." This is one of Mr. Morton's very best numbers and should be a big hit owing to the popularity of the writer as well as the sterling worth of the composition. Mr. Baldwin has selected a new song for today and one of the finest motion picture ever seen in this city will be given.

At the Bijou.

Among the many good things to be offered at the Bijou today will be a film of great novelty that should be seen by all. This particular film will show the inside of a moving picture theatre, giving the Bijou audience a chance to behold another audience as it gazes upon flashing motion pictures. A young employe gets discharged because he falls in love with his employer's daughter. Poor and friendless, yet possessing the love of the girl, he goes forth into the world, and pluckily strikes out for himself. He amasses a fortune, and then goes back to look for the girl. But fortune has frowned upon her father in the meantime and the young man is unable to locate her. He drifts into a moving picture theatre and discovers the girl's whereabouts by seeing her in a moving picture. Still other great films are on today's bill, including the muchly talked of photo-comedy. "That Awful Brother." Of course, Mr. Frank Banks has something choice to offer today in a beautiful illustrated song hit.

Joyland.

The programme for today will be a top-liner as far as quantity and quality go, and that is saying quite a bit considering the past record of this theatre. A full portion of pictures will be dished out and a new illustrated song by Mr. Reilly, who is making such a tremendous hit with his presentations of the popular late music. The show opens at 2:30 and continues until 11 P. M.

AGUA PREITA EVACUATED.

Mexican Town Deserted by the Federals Yesterday.

Douglas, Ariz., May 10.—With Agua Preit the town about which a desperate battle raged two weeks ago, thrown back on their hands by its abandonment today by the Federals, the members of the rebel junta here are at a loss what to do with it.

The Federals decamped early today. Yesterday they devoted to building trenches and last night to destroying them. The town is deserted. The town of Naco also fell into rebel hands today, its volunteer garrison withdrawing.

With the port of Naco closed all provisions and other supplies for Cananea and intervening points on the Naco railroad must pass through Nogales.

Americans are wondering how business is to be carried on, with Juarez, Agua Preita and Naco with respect to custom service.

Because of the evacuation of Agua Prieta it is believed that the Moctezuma Copper Company and the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, operating the great Pilares mine and concentrator at Nacozari, must suspend operations as there is no port for export. Other mines in Central Sonora are likewise affected, including the Minneapolis Copper, of Minneapolis, the Transvaal Copper, of Cincinnati, the Monte Cristo, of Duluth, the Antihua and Temblor, of New York, Las Chispas, of the Swiss-Pedrizzinni Company.

EXERCISES IN CAROLINA.

Memorial Day Observed at Greensboro and Winston.

Winston-Salem, N. C., May 10.—Memorial Day exercises were held here today by members of Norfleet Camp and Daughters of the Confederacy. Crosses of honor were presented to the war veterans and the graves of departed soldiers were decorated. An address was delivered by E. E. Gray, of this city.

Greensboro, N. C., May 10.—Colonel Robert E. Lee, Jr., a grand son of the great chieftain of the Confederacy, made the Memorial Day address here today.

Colonel Lee, after paying an eloquent tribute to the soldiers and women of the Confederacy, declared that "slavery was the occasion, not the cause, of the war, and the calamity, not the crime, of the South."

He pointed out the efforts of Southerners to retain a clause in the Declaration of Independence to prohibit slavery in the newly established States and even to incorporate such a condition in the original constitution of the United States. Following the exercises, the veterans marched to the cemetery, where the graves of their dead comrades were decorated with flowers and flags.

Do Ghosts Haunt Swamps?

No, never. It's foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes; bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only, 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

ONLY THREE CASES TRIED

United States Court Drags Along Slowly—One Found Guilty of Retailing, Two Not Guilty and One Submission.

The United States District Court made very little progress yesterday. Three cases were tried and there was one submission. Two cases were heard at the morning session while the afternoon session was consumed in the hearing of one case. Court adjourned at 4:30 o'clock until 9:30 o'clock this morning. One of the events of yesterday was the withdrawal of one of the witnesses from the stand, it being evident that he was too drunk to testify in the case. Another witness was also very much under the influence of some intoxicant, but was able to testify.

Eliza Minor, of Robeson county, was found not guilty of the charge of retailing. The jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case against Alonzo Diggs, colored, also of Robeson county, charged with retailing, but recommended mercy. The defendant was sentenced to 30 days in jail. Through his counsel, ex-Congressman G. B. Patterson, of Lumberton, Jasper Gilchrist, colored, entered a submission to a charge of retailing. In view of the fact that the defendant has already served over two months in jail, he was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

The most interesting case of the day was taken up about noon and consumed the remainder of the day. It was one in which Luther Duncan, a white man, of Columbus county, was charged with retailing and distilling. The principal witness against him was Mary Hardy, a white woman. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty. The defendant was represented by Brooke G. Emlie, Esq., of the local bar, who had a hard fight to clear his client.

COMPRESSION OF COTTON.

Arguments in Action Heard by Commerce Commission.

Washington, May 10.—Oral arguments were heard by the Interstate Commerce Commission today in the case involving the compression of cotton in transit instituted by the Commercial and Industrial Association of Union Springs, Ala., and the Railroad Commission of Alabama against the Central of Georgia Railway and other carriers.

The two cases involve rates on cotton from all points of origin in the cotton belt to destinations in the East, together with the compression of cotton in transit from origin to destination.

FORMER YALE STAR PASSES.

Francis Gordan Brown, Jr., Died Yesterday at Glenhead, L. I.

New York, May 10.—Francis Gordon Brown, Jr., captain of the successful Yale eleven of 1900, and an idol of Old Eli, died today at Glenhead, L. I. Death was due to diabetes. He was generally regarded as one of the best football men this country ever produced. As a guard and for his "tackless back" play he won greatest note.

Although the son of wealthy parents and the nephew of J. P. Morgan, Brown was a hard worker in college. Among his honors was the Phi Beta Kappa key.

EVERY SICK LADY IN U. S.

Says Mrs. Wm. Hilliard, of Mountainburg, Ark., Should Take Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

Mountainburg, Ark.—"After my doctor had done all he could for me", says Mrs. Wm. Hilliard, of this place, "Cardui helped me so much.

"I had suffered from female complaint for six (6) years, but a friend told my husband about your medicine, Cardui, so I began to take it.

"It is a pleasure to me to write in praise of this wonderful woman's tonic, for it saved my life, brought me relief, and I am now in good health."

A tonic, taken in time, would save many a person's life—if a woman, a woman's tonic. Cardui—because it helps the system to ward off the attacks of disease.

It stands to reason that it is harder for any disease to get hold on a strong, well person than on a weak, delicate one.

Some folks look as though you could knock them down with a feather and disease is a good deal more dangerous than a feather.

So, remember please, that what you should do, if you are not up to the normal standard of womanly health, is: Take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

Consult your druggist. He will tell you. Do it today.

HOME MISSIONS THE TOPIC

Interesting Session of Woman's Societies of North Carolina Conference—Maj. Hemphill Memorial Day Orator.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 10.—The Woman's Home Mission Society of the North Carolina Conference heard today an inspiring address by Mrs. R. B. John, president of the society, on her trip to the Southern Council at St. Louis, Mo., April 19th, to 29th. She presented especially plans perfected there for the union of the Home and Foreign Mission departments.

Luncheon was served to the ladies at the church parsonage followed by a session for hearing additional reports from auxiliaries through delegates. A street car ride and visit to the Methodist Orphanage this afternoon. Tonight Rev. L. S. Massey, editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate, delivered a powerful missionary sermon. Tomorrow the final session will be held, when officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

Editor J. C. Hemphill, of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, delivered a splendid address this afternoon in connection with the Memorial Day celebration here before great throngs of people assembled in the Confederate cemetery. He paid high tribute to the valor and honor of the Confederate soldier and eloquently portrayed the victory that has arisen out of the apparent defeat of the Confederate cause, having affirmed the contention of Southerners for State's rights, the great principle really involved in the Civil War. The re-united country, of loyalty of the whole people to the fundamental principles of the Republic came in for forcible treatment.

GRAY HAIR WILL MAKE YOU LOOK OLD

Use Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and Your Gray Hair Will Quickly Vanish.

Gray hair is a mark of age, and nothing that can be said as to its beauty will effect the disadvantages of this mark of age set upon your brow.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy darkens the hair and restores it to its youthful beauty. Our grandmothers and their grandmothers before them used sage and sulphur for darkening their hair. Nothing has ever been found more effective for this purpose than these two time-honored remedies, but Wyeth, a modern chemist, has combined the two with other ingredients which makes a delightful dressing for the hair, and which not only removes every trace of dandruff but promotes the growth of the hair. It also stops the hair from falling out and makes it beautiful.

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

There is a natural element of the circlation known as plasma, a fibrous constituent which is the true healing quality of the blood. This plasmic property is frequently destroyed by impure accumulations in the blood, and this vital fluid not only loses its power to heal, but becomes a source of irritation to any wound or open sore or ulcer on the flesh. The blood continually discharges the impurities into the place and gradually the infection spreads and the sore enlarges. External applications cannot cure an old sore, because such treatment does not affect the blood; the most that can be expected from plasters, washes, salves, etc., is a cleansing, soothing effect on the ulcer. S. S. S. heals old sores in a perfectly natural way. It goes down into the blood, and removes the impurities and morbid matters that are the means of keeping the ulcer open; then the sore is bound to heal. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and not only does it cleanse the circulation, but it restores the healing, plasmic qualities and aids in promoting every necessary quality for good health. S. S. S. builds new flesh tissue from the bottom of the ulcer to the outer skin, and makes a permanent cure. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. S. S. S. is for sale at drug stores.

ACTIVITY IN COTTON MARKET

New Crop Showed Firmness, Scoring Sharp Advances—Eight to Eighteen Points Higher on August—Features.

New York, May 10.—It was an active day in the cotton market and at times there was some excitement with all the active old crop positions making new high records for the movement and season. The new crop also showed firmness, scoring sharp advances, and while there were reactions in the late trading, the close was steady, net 4 to 6 points lower on near months, but 8 to 18 points higher on August and later deliveries.

The market opened steady at a decline of one point on May, which was influenced by disappointing cables, an advance of one point on July, and a gain of from three to eight points on later deliveries as a result of covering, bull support and fear of lower temperatures in the South owing to the presence of a low barometer in the Northwest.

Immediately after the call near positions rallied on moderate support from spot people, bullish statistics and a renewal of the covering movement which became more active on a scale up and which carried July contracts up to 15.73 and August to 15.35 or about 10 to 27 points net higher during the middle of the day.

New crop positions sold up to a net gain of from 13 to 16 points in sympathy with this advance, and on covering by shorts who were rendered vorable weather, as well as by the failure of the market to respond more freely to the favorable growing conditions of the past few days.

Realizing was very heavy at the advance, with the old bull leaders sellers of July as soon as the flurry of shorts had subsided the market turned easier, selling at about the lowest point of the day on old crop positions during the late trading. The new crop was relatively steady on this set-back but closed 8 or 9 points off from the best. The strength of August was the feature of the day and seemed to result in a demand for that position from the bulls who were selling July and as well as from covering.

Receipts today 10,025 bales against 5,445 last week and 18,207 last year; for the week 60,000 bales against 65,880 last week and 56,632 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 6,098 bales against 6,311 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 15.17; middling gulf 16.00; no sales. Futures opened steady and closed steady.

A Burglar's Awful Deed

may not paralyze a home so completely as a mother's long illness. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a splendid remedy for women. "They gave me wonderful benefit in constipation and female trouble," wrote Mrs. M. C. Dunlap, of Leadill, Tenn. If ailing, try them, 25c at R. R. Bellamy's.

STOCKS GAINED NO HEADWAY

Opposing Forces of Speculation Remained Virtually at a Deadlock. Leading Issues Receded by Small Amounts.

New York, May 10.—The state of poise which has been maintained in the stock market in the last few days was preserved today, the opposing forces of speculation remaining virtually at a deadlock. Trading received no fresh impetus and price changes were nominal, although there was a more decided drift downward, the leading issues with few exceptions receding by small amounts.

Shortly after the opening and again late in the day selling movements were attempted, but they failed to bring out long stocks and were not permitted to gain headway. The heavy undertone was described as being due to the cumulative effect of the decline in general business and the unsatisfactory political outlook. Reduction of railroad dividends was another unfavorable factor, yesterday's cut by the Boston & Maine being followed today by similar action on the part of the Vandalia, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania system. Following announcement of the reduction by the Vandalia, Pennsylvania sold below 122 for the first time since 1908, although the revenue derived from the Vandalia does not constitute an important item in the earnings of the Pennsylvania system.

New York, New Haven & Hartford fell nearly three points today, presumably on account of the change in payment of Boston & Maine stock, of which it is a large holder. The sentimental effect upon the market as a whole was regarded as of greater significance than the action of the stocks directly concerned.

Publication of the monthly statement of the unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation did not rouse the market from its inertia, the price of United States steel itself scarcely moving when the announcement was made than unfilled tonnage at the end of April was 228,000 tons less than at the close of the preceding month. In view of known conditions in the steel trade, the statement was not surprising. Today's figures are the smallest of any month of the year with the exception of those for January.

Trading in bonds was somewhat more active today than yesterday, but the volume of business was still much below that reached a short time ago. Railroad bonds were easy. Total sales par value $3,440,000. United States government bonds unchanged. Total stocks today 168,500 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, May 10.—Hot winds in Oklahoma and Kansas helped to send wheat up today. Dryness throughout southern Russia had a similar effect, and so did the notion that the rainfall in the spring crop belt on this side of of the Canadian line was inadequate. The day's trading, left corn with a net gain of ⅝c. to 1@1⅛c.; oats, at ⅝ to ⅝@¾c. advance, and hog products more expensive by 5 to 45c.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, May 10.—The printcloth market has been active during today and large sales have been made at slightly advanced prices. This buying has stimulated the demand for fine yarn cloths for converting purposes and sales on contract are being made. Jobbers are buying lightly. Clothiers report a fair volume of advance for Fall.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

Wilmington People Have Absolute Proof of Deeds at Home.

It's not words but deeds that prove true merit.

The deeds of Doan's Kidney Pills,

For Wimington kidney sufferers,

Have made their local reputation.

Proof lies in the testimony of Wilmington people who have been cured to stay cured.

Mrs. J. A. Boykin, 514 Princess St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "For a long time I suffered from backache and pains in my limbs. I could not stoop or lift without enduring much misery and despite all my efforts, I was unable to find relief until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Bellamy's Drug Store. They entirely removed the aches and pains and I now have no cause for complaint."

(Statement given February 24th, 1908.)

No Trouble Since.

Mrs. Boykin was interviewed on December 27th, 1910, and she said: "I have no need of a kidney medicine since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I am willing to again recommend this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
